MAYOR BELIEVES SALARY IS TOO SMALL

Mother Prays She May Keep Her New Babe

Money Needed that Little One Will Not be Snatched from Her When Born—Response of Citizens for Assistance Is Most Generous

Trust Fund Will be Established to Provide for Woman and Child Until She Can Work—Subscriptions are Asked

Mother:
The sweetest word in all the world!
That is the word a little mite of humanity, yet to be born, will never know unless kind-hearted persons take a hand and change the fate apparently mapped out for it.

Unless enough money can be raised to provide for a little Lima mother, who will go down into the shadow of the valley of death in a few days to bring into the world a little one, it will be snatched from her breast and will find a home among strangers.

That is the terrible experience this worthy Lima woman faces. She must go thru the greatest ordeal known to humanity with the knowledge that she will never know the joy of clasping the babe to her; of watching it open its little eyes to the world and of hearing its little voice, music to a mother.

This woman, whose case has been thoroly investigated by The Lima News, is not in need of food or clothing. Benevolent charity has provided her with requirements for existence. But there is no way possible for her to be taken care of in order that she may keep her child when it is born.

She is a deserted wife, who was abused when her husband was with her. He is now a deserter from the United States navy and cannot return, or if he did he would be promptly picked up and placed in prison.

ALONE, WITHOUT RELATIVES OR CLOSE FRIENDS IN HER HOUR OF NEED

She has no relatives or close friends aside from the kindly women of the charitable organizations who have tenderly cared for her since she has been unable to care for herself.

Her history, known in full to the home service of the Red Cross, is excellent. Her moral character is above reproach and naught can be said against her. She is of Kentucky mountaineer stock with the soft, pleasing Southern ways. Her greatest desire is to keep the baby she has never seen. She is praying that she will not be forced to give it up.

Believing that a big-hearted community such as Lima would be ready to assist in providing for this woman until she is able to work after her babe is born, The Lima News has started a subscription campaign to raise the necessary funds. Already the generous response has justified the belief that citizens would help.

Subscriptions of any amount are acceptable. The money is to be placed in trust in the American Bank to be used exclusively for this woman. It will be paid out for her upon orders of Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, head of the home service of the Red Cross, who knows her history and needs.

Every cent contributed will be used for the worthy mother. There is no expense in connection with this collection to require a penny of the money.

The plan is to secure enough money to allow the woman to keep her new babe and the youngest of her four, which she already has. The other three will remain in the children's home, where they now are. This will require at least $500.

A subscription blank is printed herewith to be used by contributors. Contributions should be mailed or brought to The Editor of The Lima News. Checks should be made payable to "CHARITY FUND, AMERICAN BANK."

CLEVELAND STATION AGENT IS ROBBED

CLEVELAND—A lone bandit early today held up and robbed Henry Rosenberg, agent in the Lake Shore Electric Railway interurban station on the public square here of $1,250. The bandit had evidently been locked in the station all night. When Rosenberg unlocked the station door today and started to transfer the money from the safe to the cash drawer in preparation for the day's business, he heard some one tell him to "stick 'em up." The bandit compelled Rosenberg to turn over the money, then snatched out of the station and disappeared.

JURY SELECTED FOR TRIAL OF MRS. ORTHWEIN

CHICAGO—Selection of the jury to try Mrs. Cora Orthwein, slayer of Herbert P. Zeigler, will be completed today, it was expected. Testimony will not start until Monday, according to an announcement made by Lloyd Heth, prosecutor. Mrs. Orthwein is charged with shooting Zeigler, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company executive, because she was fearful that Mrs. Charlotte Lewinsky, the "kissing blonde," had supplanted her in Zeigler's affections. Mrs. Orthwein said she did it in self defense.

MRS. EVA KABER CONFESSES

Hired Men to Beat Up Her Husband, She Says

DIDN'T INTEND KILLING HIM

Doesn't Implicate Daughter in Statement

HUDSON, N. Y. — (By Associated Press) — Mrs. Eva Kaber, charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of her husband in Lakewood, Ohio, nearly two years ago, today confessed getting a midwife she had consulted, to hire two men to beat up her husband in order to change his harsh attitude toward her. She denied that she had intended that he be killed. Chief Christensen, of Lakewood, made this statement today to a representative of the Associated Press, on the train that was carrying him. Mrs. Kaber and her daughter, Miss Marian McArdle, back to Cleveland. Chief Christensen, however, denied a report that two men had been ordered to pose as ghosts. He also stated that Mrs. Kaber had not implicated her daughter.

SLAYER NAMED
CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press) — Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber has confessed that her husband, Dan F. Kaber, was murdered with her knowledge in their Lakewood home two years ago and daughter, has confirmed much of her mother's story. The Cleveland News announced this morning on information telephoned from New York by Police Chief Christensen of Lakewood, to County Prosecutor Stanton here early today. The "man with the cap" now in custody here, is the man who drove the knife twenty-four times into Kaber's body, according to Mrs. Kaber's confession.

A woman whom Mrs. Kaber says planned the murder, was arrested in her home here early today by Prosecutor Stanton and Chief of Police Frank W. Smith. The woman who refused to make any statement when arrested, will be questioned this afternoon. According to Prosecutor Stanton's information from Chief Christensen, Mrs. Kaber said "two foreigners did the murder" and declared that a woman arrested by Cleveland officers in Sandusky, Ohio, Wednesday morning and now held in jail here, procured the actual slayer.

CRIMES STIFLED
The "man with the cap" was arrested here Wednesday and his companion, a cousin, who according to Mrs. Kaber's confession, sat at Kaber's head to stifle his cries, is being sought by police. Mrs. Kaber's confession declares, according to Prosecutor Stanton's information that these two foreigners went to the Kabers home to "beat up" Kaber. Instead they stabbed him to death.

Mrs. Kaber and her daughter broke down and confessed, according to Stanton's advices from New York after being questioned ceaselessly for several hours by detectives sent to their cells during the night.

Mrs. Kaber, it is said, implicated her daughter, her aged mother, Mrs. Mary Brickell, now in jail here on a charge of first degree murder and the woman who was taken in custody early today.

SENT GHOST TO HUSBAND'S BEDSIDE

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Dan F. Kaber, wealthy Lakewood, Ohio, publisher, met death after attacking two foreigners engaged by Mrs. Kaber to pose as spirits to frighten him into a better attitude toward her, according to a statement which the New York Evening World today says Chief of Police Christensen obtained from Mrs. Kaber here. The newspaper quotes Chief Christensen as saying that Mrs. Kaber had consulted a woman medium for advice as to how to change her husband's attitude toward her. The publisher's burly manner after an illness was said to have occasioned the visit.

By advice of this medium Mrs. Kaber was said to have employed two foreigners to appear at her husband's bedside in the night as ghosts and as she expressed it, to try and shake a little civility into him.

Aroused from his slumber, Mr. Kaber was alleged to have attacked the two men and to have been stabbed to death by them in the struggle.

According to the newspaper, Chief Christensen said Mrs. Kaber had declared that she had refused to pay the two foreigners when they reappeared after the funeral, asserting they had not fulfilled the role of ghosts as she had intended and that she would not involve herself by paying for murder.

Mrs. Kaber then was said to have fled to New York to escape the foreigners, without advising the Cleveland police for fear of involving herself.

NEW CHAIRMAN OF G. O. P. COMMITTEE

John T. Adams has been officially elected chairman of the national Republican committee, to succeed Will H. Hays, who is now a member of President Harding's cabinet. Adams had been vice chairman of the committee.

OHIO MEN MARKED FOR DEATH

Two Homes in Tuscarawas-co Are Bombed

LAWYER'S HOUSE WRECKED

Explosives Aimed at Prosecutor and Safety Director

NEW PHILADELPHIA — (By Associated Press) — Attempts were made by bomb throwers early today to kill Russell Bowers, 30-year-old prosecuting attorney of Tuscarawas-co, and L. O. Haug, safety director of Dover, both of whom have been active in enforcement of the prohibition laws in Tuscarawas-co. A dynamite bomb was thrown on the front porch on the Bowers home in New Philadelphia at 1:30 o'clock this morning from a passing automobile. It exploded, blowing the porch to splinters and wrecking the house, but no one was injured.

A dynamite bomb also was thrown on the porch of the Haug home, in the nearby town of Dover, at about the same time, but the fuse did not burn and the bomb failed to explode.

Authorities immediately started search, trailing the automobile, and placed Nick Negro and his son, Chauncey, under arrest as suspects. The son was found hiding under the porch of the Negro home in Dover. Both men are being held in the Tuscarawas-co jail here.

U. S. ROTARIANS AT LIVERPOOL

On Way to Edinburgh to Attend Convention

LIVERPOOL.—(By United Press).—Shouting their "battle songs," 465 American Rotarians disembarked here today.

Their arrival was made the occasion for a display of good fellowship between the British and Americans. The latter were welcomed heartily by the lord mayor, who took breakfast aboard the Caronia.

The lord mayor praised Rotary as an instrument for furthering Anglo-American friendship.

Robert MacDowell, Louisville, Ky., international vice-president and Archibald Klumph, Cleveland, Ohio, past president, drew cheers from the Britishers with the crowd singing lustily.

"Marching Thru Georgia," "Dixie" and other American airs and some other strictly Rotarian music kept the breakfasters cheering thru their meal.

Two special trains carried the delegates to Scotland. Newspaper comment on the visit was most cordial. Americans appreciated especially editorials clipped from the London Telegraph which said the Rotarians during the war had shown what could be done thru cooperation in promoting a common cause.

"There exists today no greater need than that business men should practice the Rotarians motto of 'Service not Self,'" the Telegraph said.

HOME CITY HONORS GALBRAITH

Friends Meet Body on Arrival at Cincinnati

ESCORTED BY SOLDIERS

Funeral Arrangements to be Completed Today

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — Plans for the funeral of Colonel Fred W. Galbraith, Jr., commander of the American Legion who was killed in an automobile accident in Indianapolis, are being completed until the arrival here today of Mrs. Galbraith, from her summer home in Northport, Miss. It is known, however, that the funeral will be a military one, with former service men, comrades of the colonel in France, regular army troops from Fort Thomas and other outfits participating.

The services may be held in Music Hall, the largest auditorium in the city, Saturday afternoon.

ARRIVAL OF BODY

The body of Colonel Galbraith arrived here last night from Indianapolis. It was accompanied by a soldiers' escort and a large number of friends and several relatives. A full company of soldiers from Fort Thomas, Ky., sent to Cincinnati by Colonel Edgar Traub, commandant, and Mayor John Galvin of this city and other city officials met the body at the railroad station.

Numerous soldiers, many of whom served in Colonel Galbraith's overseas, and fully 3,000 civilians also were assembled at the station to pay respect to the dead.

THROWN BY CROWD

Most of the civilians marched with the soldiers to Memorial Hall, where they were permitted to pass the unopened casket.

The casket was not opened, it having been decided to permit the undertaker to prepare it properly for inspection.

After the crowd of about 5,000 persons had filed past the casket, the body was removed to an undertaker's establishment, accompanied by a guard of honor, composed of members of Colonel Galbraith's old command.

After the arrival of Mrs. Galbraith, the body of the dead colonel will be returned to Memorial Hall, where it will lie in state during the latter part of today and tomorrow forenoon.

The Rev. John F. Herget, former chaplain of the thirty-seventh division will officiate at the funeral Saturday afternoon.

TRIAL OF DECKER ENDS TODAY

Murder Case Will Reach Jury This Afternoon

WARSAW, Ind.—(By Associated Press).—The fate of Virgil Decker, farmer boy, charged with the murder of Leroy Lovett, his chum, and said to have been his "double," as the result of an alleged conspiracy to slay Lovett, claim his body as that of Decker and collect $24,000 life insurance, will be in the hands of the jury, it is expected, this afternoon.

Court was opened this morning with the concluding argument for the defense by Judge Francis Bower. He will be followed by L. A. Stookey for the state, after which the trial will be ended by the reading of instructions by Judge L. W. Royce.

The defense abruptly ended its case early yesterday afternoon when it waived an opening statement, placed one witness on the stand and announced that it had rested. More than 25 witnesses summoned to testify were dismissed.

FAMILY IS SLAUGHTERED; POSSES CHASE SUSPECT

LOUISA, Ky. — (By United Press).—A posse of 50 farmers were still searching today for a man suspected of the murder of four persons of one family and the wounding of another.

The dead are: Mary Sparks, 4, shot thru the heart.

Wesley Sparks, Sr., beaten to death.

Wesley Sparks, Jr., stabbed to death.

Daniel Sparks, 21, shot thru the head.

Hugh Sparks, 19, is at his home, suffering from gunshot wounds in the left leg and hip.

While the murders were committed last Sunday, search for the murderer wasn't started until yesterday, when first word of the murder reached here.

GROOMS SELF TO HOLD JOB

Present City Executive Believed Will be Candidate for Place on City Commission and Expects to be President of Board and Mayor of the City

Clarence Heller Admits He Was Approached Concerning Appointment as Safety Director, in Event Fred H. Fisher Resigned or Was Fired

Altho it has been common knowledge for some time past that Mayor Frank Burkhardt is grooming himself for entry in the city commission race this fall, it developed Friday that he is not satisfied with the purse offered the winner.

The commissioners select one of their number as president, who is also designated as mayor. This office is nothing more or less than a figurehead position. Because of this, the mayor is given the same salary as the remainder of the commissioners. The pay is $600 a year.

Now, $600 is not enough money for a mayor, is the belief of the present mayor, according to a member of the commission which drafted the charter of the new form of government and who declared he was questioned concerning the future mayor's salary by Burkhardt.

Burkhardt, according to the commissioner, said the amount was not large enough for the mayor of Lima. The present mayor, the commissioner avers, intimated that he is contemplating not only entering the race, but expects to win the mayor's chair.

However, the size of the salary is said to have taken some of the joy out of the race, insofar as Burkhardt is concerned. As yet, Burkhardt has not filed his name as a candidate for a commissioner's place.

JOB IS DECLINED

Because contemplated new business enterprises is expected to consume too much of his time, Clarence Heller, printing shop manager, turned down an offer from Mayor Burkhardt to consider the position of Director of Public Safety, according to a statement made by Heller Friday.

It is understood that Heller was approached by Mayor Burkhardt and his brother, W.A. Burkhardt, before the same suggestion was made to C. N. Shook, former socialist mayor of Lima.

Mayor Burkhardt refuses to make any statement regarding his tentative plans concerning action to be taken upon or by Fred Fisher, present safety director. However, it is presumed that prior to the arraignment of former police sergeant Goebel and Eberle, Burkhardt was making plans to fill the safety director's office and it was intimated in the chief executive's recent public letter to the safety director that Fisher would either have to eliminate the alleged laxity in the department or his resignation would be sought.

It has been common knowledge for some time past that Burkhardt was considering Heller for the appointment in the event Fisher either resigned or was ousted.

"SECOND FIDDLE" OFFER

The fact that Heller received the consideration and was approached concerning the appointment was not made public by the mayor or his brother, who appears to be interested in procuring a director.

It is declared that Heller was approached before Shook, who evidently was chosen as a "second fiddle."

Heller, when questioned regarding the matter Friday morning, admitted that he had been approached concerning the matter.

WALLACE WARNS OF FOOD NEEDS

Agriculture Secretary Speaks of Production Situation

AMHERST, Mass.—(By Associated Press).—The United States has entered a new era in which the growing population seems about to "overtake our normal production of food," Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said today in an address before the Massachusetts Agricultural College. With the new era, he added, would come "the need, if not for redirection of effort, then for the taking on of new and enlarged duties."

"Fifty years ago there was land in abundance for all who cared to farm," the secretary said. "Today that land is selling for from $100 to $300 per acre. Fifty years ago the young farmer who had the will to work, who had a good wife and a few simple implements could move into the great west with almost certain assurance that after a time he would own his own farm and home, today a capital equal to from $20,000 to $50,000 is required to carry on farming in the great surplus producing states. The matter of financial credit, therefore, has become one of our most pressing problems."

"The problem of distribution is one of increasing complexity and is made worse by the increased transportation charges, which, if they continue for any length of time are likely to make marked changes in our agricultural and industrial map."

"One of the results of the war was to bring to the nations of Europe the danger of relying too much upon importations of food. So we see these nations bending every effort now to restore their production to a plane which will enable them to more nearly feed themselves, thus narrowing the market for our surplus. At the same time we meet increased competition thru the rapid development of the vast agricultural areas in lands which just now are starting well toward the same sort of exploitation which we have been thru during the past fifty years."

CAR COMPANIES CUT WAGES AT DAYTON

DAYTON — With one exception the six different street car companies operating in Dayton, have announced reductions in wages paid platform men effective July 6. The new scale is 42, 43 and 45 cents per hour, based upon length of service. The present rate ranges from 62 cents to 67 cents per hour. The carmen have signified no intention of rejecting or accepting the new wage, but a series of conferences is being arranged at which some action will be taken. The prevailing opinion is that the parties to the dispute will get together amicably before July 6, when the present contract expires.

ENEMIES FOILED, FORD DEALERS

Explains Situation to Company Officials by Letter

NO FINANCIAL TROUBLES

Is Not Conducting Campaign Against Jew

DETROIT, Mich. — (By United Press) — Henry Ford, in a letter to officials of his company throughout the country today declared he had foiled certain enemies who had sought to ruin him financially and had paid up the last notes involved in buying out his stockholders, amounting to $100,000,000.

The letter, which referred to Ford in the third person, was signed by his attorney, E. G. Liebhold. The communication also explained the Dearborn Independent's anti-Jewish campaign.

The letter follows: "The most talked-of publication in the United States today is the Dearborn Independent. No Ford official doubts that he probably hears about it more than he cares to, sometimes. And that is what we want to talk to you about.

"The Dearborn Independent is Henry Ford's own paper and he authorizes every statement occurring therein.

ALWAYS HAD ENEMIES

"One proof of the vitality of the Dearborn Independent is the enemies it has made. Henry Ford has always had enemies. He made enemies when he single handed fought the first automobile trust which sought to restrict the automobile manufacture under the so-called Selden patent. He made enemies when he voluntarily raised the minimum wage of the country to the highest point it has reached and then raised it again. He made enemies when he proclaimed his horror of war. He made enemies again when he threw his whole energies into winning the war and refused to take a dollar of it for himself.

"There are a lot of persons and interests in this country who would like to see it proved that business cannot be run on the Ford plan. They have a most illuminating example of it in recent months. You remember when 'whispering campaign' started with its slogan 'We'll get Ford!' A little later, it broke in a deluge of newspaper reports that the Ford organization was in financial difficulties.

NO DENIALS

"You did not see any denials, did you? Mr. Ford was watching the progress of that storm of propaganda across the country, deaf to the appeals of the press association for one word from him that would let them down gracefully from the hoax they had perpetrated on the country.

"He wanted to discover where and how that storm started and he did.

"The whole story was false. 'Every banker in the United States who was at all conversant with the Ford financial status, knew it was false.

"Mr. Ford was not asking for a dollar more money than Wall Street controls was out of him for the asking.

"Recently he paid the last of the notes involved in the transaction of buying out his stockholders, an enormous transaction involving $100,000,000.

"The last of these notes were paid before maturity. You did not see any splurge about that in the papers, did you?

"A man of whom it was said two months ago 'We've got him,' clears himself of every financial obligation in an enormous sum and yet it is not news to the interests that will never forgive Henry Ford for introducing the square deal in business.

"Perhaps you will understand now some of the enmity visited on the Dearborn Independent.

"People ask you every day perhaps a question which runs like this: 'Why is Henry Ford attacking the Jews?' The answer is 'There is no attack, no campaign against Jews.'

"The Jewish question, as every business man knows, has been fostering in silence and suspicion here in the United States for a long time and no one has dared discuss it because Jewish influence was strong enough to crush the man who attempted it.

"The Jews are the only race whom it is verboten to discuss frankly and openly and abusing the fear they have cast over business Jewish leadership has gone from one excess to another until the time came for a protest or surrender.

"The Dearborn Independent in a series of articles, eminently fair, temperate, and judicial, has endeavored to set forth the facts and has won the gratitude of tens of thousands of Americans by so doing.

"You, as officials of the Ford Motor Company, may deny all Jewish explanations for this series of articles, namely, that 'A Jew stung Ford in a business deal, that Jewish financiers refused to let Ford have a loan and that Ford is a Jew hater anyway.'

"No Jew has succeeded in getting the better of Mr. Ford. A Jew has the chance to refuse him a loan. No Jew can say that he ever got anything but the squarest kind of man to man deal from Mr. Ford as thousands of Jewish Ford employees can testify."

JUDGMENT FOR $1,714.18 Judgment by default in the case of John E. Wooley, administrator, with the will annexed of the estate of Robert W. Wilgus, against the Elmer D. Webb company, for $1,714.18, was granted by Judge F. C. Becker in court Friday.

TWO POSTOFFICE JOBS OFFERED BY UNCLE SAM UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

Two good jobs, paying liberal wages and with a bonus for satisfactory service at the end of each year, will be awarded successful contestants in civil service examinations to be held at the Post office in Lima July 2.

Both men and women have an opportunity to land one of the two positions. One vacancy is that of charwoman, whose duties will be to do cleaning and dusting at the post office. The position pays $350 per annum, with a bonus for good service of $240. This brings the salary up to $590 monthly.

Widows of former soldiers and sailors, or wives of service men disabled by injury in line of duty, will have the preference.

Examination for the same position was held some time ago, but no women in Lima made application.

Examination will also be held July 2 for position of firmman-laborer at Lima. Salary paid, together with bonus for good service makes the position pay $600 annually. Applicants will pass a physical examination, but disability will be waived in case of former service men. One year's experience as stationary firmman is required. Only citizens of the United States eligible.

HAYNES NAMED AS U. S. DRY CHIEF

Ohio Editor is Appointed by President Harding

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Formal announcement of the appointment of Roy Haynes, a Hillsboro, Ohio, editor, as national prohibition commissioner, was made today at the White House.

Mr. Haynes, who succeeds John F. Kramer, is expected to take office as soon as he can arrange his personal affairs. The appointment does not require confirmation.

The commissioner is editor of the Hillsboro Dispatch and was one of the first Ohio editors to suggest the nomination of Mr. Harding for president. He has been a factor in Ohio Republican politics for a number of years and in 1912 was a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress.

Before entering newspaper work, Mr. Haynes served as head master of the Miami Military Institute at Germantown, Ohio. He has been identified with church and temperance work and five years ago was a member of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The final choice for the position of prohibition commissioner has rested for some time, it is understood, between Mr. Haynes and another Ohioan, Newton Fairbanks, of Springfield, a brother of the late vice-president. Administration officials have indicated that Mr. Fairbanks would be given a place in the government service, and it has been suggested that he may be appointed to the diplomatic corps.

MUNICIPAL BONDS AS DIFFICULT OF SALE AS RUSSIAN RUBLES

Lima isn't the only city in Ohio that is unable to sell its bonds. Findlay is up against it, too.

Inquiry was received Friday by the Chamber of Commerce from the Findlay body, asking if Lima had experienced difficulty in marketing bonds.

The Findlay Chamber of Commerce it appears, induced council in that city to vote bonds for a lot of public improvements, but nobody will buy them. Hence the anxiety of the Findlay Chamber to learn the situation in other cities.

The letter was turned over to Auditor David L. Rupert, who has replied to the effect that municipal bonds are about as salable today as Russian rubles.

BROTHER OF LIMA GIRL ELECTROCUTED IN TOLEDO

Roxey Schultz, 28, an electrician, formerly a resident of Celina, was killed by contact with a high tension wire at Toledo shortly prior to noon Friday. Word of the tragedy was received by his sister, Miss Eva Schultz, 541 W. Elm-st.

Schultz was a war veteran and went to Toledo to work shortly following army demobilization three years ago. He had recently been working for J. J. Duck & Co. electrical contractors, making extensions of power lines.

Schultz was unmarried and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Schultz, reside in Celina. They have been told of their son's death. Miss Eva Schultz, Lima, an employee of the Dekele store, a sister is the only other immediate relative.

BLOOD GIVEN IN VAIN TO SAVE WOMAN'S LIFE

CLEVELAND — The offer of 372 firemen to share their blood to save the life of Mrs. Bertha Wilson proved in vain.

Mrs. Wilson died at Mount Sinai Hospital here today after a blood transfusion operation failed.

Mrs. Wilson had been in a serious condition since twins were born by means of a Caesarian operation a week ago. Relatives offered to submit to blood transfusion, but it was found unsuitable.

The appeal then was made to First Assistant Chief Granger, Charles L. Trinkner was picked out of the 372 firemen who volunteered. One of the twins died two days ago.

BONUS BILL TO BE SETTLED SOON

Will Reimburse 4,800,000 Men and Women

FIVE OPTIONAL PLANS

Measure To Come Before Senate in Near Future

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Settlement of the "bonus" question is at hand.

Early enactment of the soldiers' adjusted compensation bill with five optional plans to reimburse the 4,800,000 men and women who served in the World War, was predicted today by Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Since the first cash payments provided in the bill will not begin until July 1, 1922, Senator Penrose said there is no necessity to await the enactment of the tariff and tax revision measures. Revenue raising features which must originate in the house, having been eliminated from the measures, the senate will soon have the bill before it.

The bill is in substantially the same form as when first introduced. Elimination of the time limit for election of the plan by the veterans is the chief change.

No definite plan for raising the revenue to meet the requirements of the measure has been settled upon, according to Penrose.

The plans included in the bill are: 1.—Adjusted service pay: $1 per day for each day's service in the United States, and $1.25 for each day's service abroad.

2.—Adjusted service certificates: insurance on a sum 40 percent greater than his cash compensation, payable in 20 years with interest of 4-1/2 percent compounded annually.

3.—Vocational training aid, at government expense at an amount equal to his cash compensation, plus 40 percent.

4.—Farm or home aid, adjusted service pay, plus 40 percent for home or farm.

5.—Public land preference, giving veterans first choice of government lands, now or hereafter opened. If all the veterans should accept the cash plan, the total outlay would amount to $1,560,166,380, according to latest estimates. The 1922 appropriation would be $456,000,000, with a sharp decline for succeeding years.

RESIGNED COPS AID CHIEF ROUSH IN HUNT FOR BANK BANDIT GANG

Despite the fact that former police sergeants, John Goebel and Frank Eberle are no longer members of the Lima police department, they accompanied Chief Roush and Officer Dick Watkins late Thursday afternoon in a search for the bandits who held up the bank at Preble, Ind., and who killed Clarence Smith, cashier of the institution.

Chief of Police Roush received a communication to the effect that it was believed the bandits were headed toward Lima.

Goebel and Eberle were at police headquarters at the time and asked Roush to be allowed to accompany him. The chief complied with the request. Every road leading into Lima from the direction of Preble was patrolled by the quartet.

According to Roush, the three men with him, did everything but pray that they would encounter the bandits.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE IS OUT OF HOSPITAL

Mrs. George M. Johnson, 22, 410 W. Kibby-st., who made an unsuccessful attempt to end her life by drinking carbolic acid Thursday noon, was able to leave St. Rita's hospital Friday.

Mrs. Johnson's trouble is said to have been due to a little quarrel she had with her husband after which he left home. She is said to have believed he was interested in other women.

Her young daughter, Helen Spornhauser, by a former marriage, who was with her at the time she drank the poison in the office of the Consumers' Fuel & Building Supply company, E. Vine-st and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, has been placed with the parents of Mrs. Johnson, temporarily.

VERDICT OF $200 FOR SWEMS ON NOTE GIVEN IN CHIROPRACTOR DEAL

The jury which on Thursday heard the case of Dr. B. E. Swem against Dr. G. A. McEwen and wife, tried in Justice Ernest M. Botkin's court, returned a judgment for $200 and costs against McEwen and his wife.

The men are chiropractors Swem and his wife sold to the McEwens the business and office fixtures in their office in the Faurot building. McEwen claimed that the business was not as represented to them and brought in no such fabulous results. He testified, too, that Mrs. Swem was continuing in the business as a chiropractor and that he lost much patronage.

McEwen then turned back the office furniture and business to Swem, who filed suit for $300, still due on a note. A verdict of no cause of action for McEwen and his wife against the Swems for damages for failure to carry out their contract, was also returned by the jury.

Admiral to Tell Denby About His London Speech

LONDON — (By Associated Press) — Rear Admiral William S. Sims, said this morning he would reply to the request of Secretary of the Navy Denby, asking him to inform the American naval department as to his remarks on the Irish question delivered here Tuesday. He said he would not make public his reply.

Admiral Sims did not seem perturbed by reports that the United States senate had taken action calling for an investigation of his speech, but expressed curiosity as to when the senatorial inquiry would be begun.

"I am returning on the Olympic, June 15," he said. "I don't suppose I could book an earlier passage."

Admiral Sims declared he probably would not make any further statement until his return to the United States. He is busy with a voluminous correspondence, which averages about 70 letters per day from friends in England.

L O'CONNOR TO REMOVE FLAG POLE FROM SQUARE

J. D. Steiner, with whom Service Director Elmer McClain contracted for the removal of the steel flag pole from the public square, the work to be completed by June 10, defaulted his contract, McClain stated Friday and arrangements have been made whereby the pole is to be taken down by L. O'Connor, the job to be accomplished by June 15.

It is expected that O'Connor will have the aid of the extension ladder of the fire department.

OBITUARY

Lola Gertrude Cook Barnett was born February 21st, 1902, departed this life June 7th, 1921, age 19 years, 3 months and 16 days. She was united in marriage to Dorsey LeRoy Barnett June 30, 1920.

She was a kind, loving, affectionate, devoted wife, always trying to do something which would please her husband.

She only had the pleasure and indeed it was real pleasure to her, of living with her husband 11 months and 7 days. Lola has been afflicted since December, 1920, and in all that time never was heard to find fault or complain about anything. She was indeed a patient wife. She continually, regardless of her suffering, cared more for the pleasure of her husband than anything else in her life. Suffering she could not bear the idea or thought of her husband being away from her bedside. Indeed, her last words were, "Dorsey, take me." Death seemed to have no terror to her. When asked about the future, she said she was ready to go, putting her arms around her husband's neck, bidding him and all the rest a long good bye.

She gave her heart to the Lord in February, 1919, and at that time united with the Methodist Protestant church at Westminster, Ohio. She leaves to mourn, a devoted husband, father, mother, three sisters, three grandparents and a host of relatives and friends.

"I'm sure if Lola were here she'd say, 'Don't cry, don't weep; for where I now am I'm rested. I was so tired with thee. Only be sure to come and meet me. Don't weep, don't cry, I'll ever be waiting and watching for you, until you meet me in the sky.'"

HARD FIGHT FOR ALLEGED BANDITS

Former Secretary of State Engaged As Counsel

The trials of Joe Willis, George Donavan and John Mason, three alleged bandits taken prisoner by the police in gun battle on the south side, promises to be among the most bitterly contested legal actions ever staged in the Allen-co common pleas court.

Attorney Francis W. Durbin, who has been interested in the case from the start, denied Friday that his clients intended pleading guilty. Eminent counsel has been retained to assist Attorney Durbin in conducting the defense of the accused men. Announcement was made Friday that Charles S. Graves, of Toledo, former secretary of state in Ohio and Justin McCarthy, of Chicago, assistant state's attorney in Chicago under Maclay Hoyne, will aid in the defense.

John Mason, of Detroit, the first of the trio, will be tried June 15 upon the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Altho plain clothesmen from Toledo, Columbus and Cincinnati viewed Mason, when he was arraigned, it is claimed none of them were able to recognize him. He admits serving a sentence in Jackson, Michigan, years ago and later served time for petty offenses in the Detroit house of correction. He is a Pole and his real name is Wurztaski.

Donavan and Willis are to be tried on June 20 and 21 respectively. They are charged with holding up and robbing the Pett brothers, farmers living near Bluffton.

CARPENTER'S HELPER CHARGED WITH MURDER

AKRON — One Grey, 21, carpenter's helper of Difficult, Tenn., was held without bond Friday on charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of J. P. McGee, viaduct construction engineer, Thursday noon.

The youth signed a written confession late today in which he admitted his striking McGee with a heavy club was responsible for the foreman plunging 70 feet to his death from the North Hill viaduct now under construction.

McGee's body will be sent to McGee Mills, Pa., his former home, for burial.

CONTRACTORS CLAIM 8-HOUR LAW HOLDS BACK PUBLIC WORK

Estimates of the work done on the North-st bridge for the month of May, by the Ora Green Construction Co., were placed at $16,878.01 and the payment approved by City Auditor D. L. Rupert.

This represents considerable less work than was completed during the month of April. The figures for-April were $24,763.08, this sum being around $8,000 more than for May. More work should have been done in May than in April, according to Ora Green, but construction was held back by the operation of the law providing for only an eight hour day.

"Only those employed by the city in city offices were to be affected by this law, but due to defective wording it was made to apply to everyone doing any kind of work for the city," said Green. "As the law now stands the owner of a mine, which sell the city coal could be arrested if they permitted their men to work more than eight hours a day."

SMITH ACQUITTED

Akron Man is Freed of Murder Charge

AKRON — (By United Press.) — After deliberating ten hours, a jury found Charles W. Smith, 47, not guilty of murdering Pete Shur on October 6, 1920.

Smith was remanded to jail to be held as a material witness against his son, who testified against the father during the trial. Shur was found dead in an out-house four days after the Smiths disappeared. They were arrested in California early this year and returned to Akron for trial.

MRS. SUDER LEAVES ESTATE TO CHURCH

By provisions of the will of Mrs. Minerva Jane Auder, late of Auglaize-tp, all her estate after debts and burial expenses are paid, is left to the trustees of the Methodist church, Harrod, to be used for church purposes. Until appointment of an executor is made, the exact amount to be left the church will not be known.

J. B. Vail has been elected president of the Allen-co pension board; Dr. A. S. Rudy, secretary, and Dr. T. R. Terwilliger, treasurer.

COMMENCEMENT AT OHIO STATE OPENS

MOUNTAIN LIONS BEING KILLED

Jay Bruce Makes Living by Destroying Beasts

TWO HOUNDS FOR AIDES

California Giant Cat Kills 52 Deer Yearly

By ELLIS H. MARTIN.
International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO. Hunting mountain lions for living is a unique and dangerous means of livelihood but one follower and he has made a success of it.

Jay Bruce, official lion killer of the California Fish and Game Commission, not only makes his own living in hunting and killing the predatory mountain lion but provides for his family as well.

Bruce, by far, is the most interesting character of the mountains of the West today. To him lion hunting is a business. He is tireless in his hunt for the giant members of the cat family who annually kill more deer than do hunters, and who annually destroy many thousands of dollars' worth of domestic animals.

Hunting lions is Bruce's life. He gets genuine pleasure out of trailing this most baffling mountain terror, and, recently told J. S. Hunter, of the Fish and Game Commission, that were he a millionaire he would spend his time just as he does now—in hunting lions.

Bruce now draws a salary from the commission for lion hunting. He also receives a State bonus, many counties pay him a bonus, and in addition he receives some revenue from the sale of the skins of the slain animals.

His chief and only aides are Ranger and Eli, the two lion hounds in the world. Bruce has trained them from puppies so that they will follow no other trail than that of a lion. They feed only on cooked meat of the lion in order that they shall not be weened from their training. Ranger and Eli are both veterans of the lion trail, and Bruce is now training Rover and Ranger to replace them when they grow too old.

HAS DOGS SENSE OF TRAIL
Eli is known as "Eli, the Silent" because he never utters a sound until on the trail of a lion. Rover and Ranger are proving pupils. Bruce values his dogs highly, and those who know him state that Bruce has even a keener trail sense than the dogs. Frequently he will call the dogs off a trail because it is too old or discover they are following a back trail. Again the dogs will lose the trail and Bruce will put them on it again. He is able to do this through his knowledge of the lion's habits and the deep study he has made of the lion country.

Bruce has killed close to 100 lions. He hunts almost continuously, coming home only when his dogs need rest. His hunting is done almost entirely on foot, as he takes to a country in which it would be impossible for a horse to follow the trails. He uses a big automatic revolver instead of a rifle. In years gone by he used a rifle and always shot for the lion's eye. However, experience and a number of close saves caused him to abandon the rifle and take to the heavy revolver. He also shoots for the heart now.

It was an accident that caused Bruce to enter upon his business of lion hunting. Born in Marin County, Cal., where lions abounded in the early days, Bruce spent much of his time as a youth in the mountains, becoming thoroughly familiar with the habits of animals of the forest.

LION CENSUS IS 575
An injury to his hand in a lumber mill in which he was employed forced him to seek other employment and he turned to the work he knew and loved best. For a time his only pay was the bounties he collected. His fame spread, and the State Fish and Game Commission employed him. Since then he has worked chiefly in the game refuge with great success. His greatest kill in any one month has been eight lions.

"Contrary to the general opinion lions are not abundant in any part of the State," according to J. S. Hunter, of the Fish and Game Commission. "Humboldt County leads with a total of 564 killed during twelve years time. The animal has been reduced in that county that the kill has dropped from 113 in 1908 to 8 in 1919. In Shasta County, the next on the list, the kill has been less than one-half, 261 killed during the same period. Here, however, the animals have apparently not been reduced to the same extent, as the kill in 1919 was approximately the same as in 1908. In Trinity County 260 have been killed; last year only 14 as against 18 in 1908. In Siskiyou County none were killed last year, but in 1908 the number totalled 21 and in the twelve-year period 241. From this it would seem that lions in Siskiyou County are greatly reduced if not practically exterminated. Only one other county, Mendocino, reports more than 200 the first twelve years. In that county 219 have been killed; the number in 1919 was 22. In 1919 is just one-half those killed in 1908. Tehama County killed three during 1919, as

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?
Do you know why sometimes do not give quick and lasting relief?
Why cutting and operations fail?
Do you know the cause of piles is internal?
That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowels?
Do you know that there is a harmless internal tablet remedy discovered by Dr. Lehnardt and known as PILE-ROID, now sold by Thompson's Drug Store and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

PILE-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowels. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for cure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers. It saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why you should not do the same for yourself.

ARMY TRUCKS AID IN REMOVING BODIES OF THE PUEBLO FLOOD VICTIMS

Airplane view of flood about Pueblo, Colorado, which caused $10,000,000 worth of property damage alone and cost scores of lives.

PUEBLO, Colo. — (By Associated Press) — Arrival yesterday of federal troops to aid the national guard and Colorado rangers, marked a new step forward in the restoration of normal conditions following this city's most disastrous flood.

Army trucks and mule trains, accompanied by a corps of laborers, are expected to facilitate the task of removing bodies and debris before decomposition has brought a new danger of disease. Martial law regulations have been made more stringent. Passengers are not permitted to leave trains without a military pass.

Colonel P. J. Hamrock, adjutant general, said it probably will be two weeks before martial law will be ended. He said the public utilities would be in full operation before the troops are withdrawn.

All relief work, construction and rehabilitation of business and industry has been placed in the hands of the Red Cross by the civilian committee.

Rapid progress has been made in clearing the streets and business houses. Railroad tracks have been dug out from under mud and passengers are being taken out of the city by train daily.

The death list, compiled from the morgues, was 47 today, with 120 names on the official list of missing persons.

Interviews— Ideas and Fancies

DR. E. D. SINKS: "F. W. Galbraith, commander in chief of the American Legion, killed in an automobile accident at Indianapolis, was a personal friend of mine. He was a wonderful man and was doing an exceptional work for the ex-service men. When he was elected commander in chief of the Legion last September, he dropped his other work and devoted all his time to the service of the soldiers. He was greatly interested in legislation which would aid the ex-service man, but every other year. Sometimes three kittens are born but the usual number is two. This would make the kill of 243 in 1919 the offspring of 243 females or 42 percent of the total number of lions in the state. This calculation would give a lion population in California of about 575, which we believe is somewhere near the actual number. "This number of lions can do an enormous amount of damage to the deer. The minimum estimate of the number of deer killed by a single lion each year has been placed at 52. Five hundred and seventy-five lions will kill at least 30,000 deer during the year if deer are available, and deer are common in every part of the State where lions are found."

H. L. DEWITT, contractor: "A building code is either a help or a hindrance to a growing city. It must not be too strict or too lax. Where it is too strict, building operations are hindered and faulty causes the erection of buildings which are neither satisfactory to the builder or to the purchaser. Questions of sanitation, safety, fire protection and general construction should be covered in a sane way. Next to an adequate code comes intelligent inspection. The inspector should cooperate with the builders and enforce the law in a human way. There will be no infraction of the code where the inspectors and the builders work together. It must be realized that the law is for the protection of property and not merely to give the city a parental control over all construction."

FRANK RAKESTRAW, 714 N. Jameson-ave: "I believe that if a man desires to work longer than eight hours and it is not detrimental to either himself or the job he is working on, he should be permitted to work. In these times when there has been much unemployment, many men are in debt and welcome an opportunity to add to their income. Wages have been cut by the hour, but the total can be held at about the same level by working more hours. The law permitting only an eight hour day on city work was designed, I believe, to protect the laborer. If the worker wants a ten hour day instead of the present eight hours, I think he should have it."

H. W. FLICK, 221 W. McKibben-st: "Butter consumption is running about double that of last year. When prices were at their lowest level the demand was greater than it is at present. At that time many people deserted oleomargarine. When prices took a jump the demand fell off, however. Many people tell me that they have eaten butter substitutes for so long that they really like the taste better than butter. For this reason the demand for oleomargarine folds up very well. A peculiar circumstance is seen in choice. This product is now at less than half of war prices, yet consumption has not increased appreciably. Milk has been in good demand ever since the cut in prices."

BAD WEATHER PUT HIM TO BED

His Arms and Legs Hurt All the time From Rheumatism Says Akron Man

"Tanlac has been worth a fortune to me, and I wouldn't think of being without it," said Isadore J. Brest, 846 Bell St., Akron, Ohio. "When I began taking Tanlac I had been suffering for two years with rheumatism and stomach trouble. My legs and arms hurt me all the time, and in damp, rainy weather I just suffered agony and had to stay in bed most of the time. My stomach caused me an awful lot of trouble, and I could hardly eat anything."

"Well, I certainly did suffer, but a friend of mine finally got me to try Tanlac, and I just put every body to know how it helped me. My stomach is in such good shape, my appetite is better than it ever was before, and my rheumatism has left me entirely. I have gained weight and feel many years younger. I do my work just as easily as ever. I did when a boy, and can eat anything I want the same as I did years ago. Tanlac certainly is wonderful."—Adv.

ARMYWORMS DISRUPT RAILWAY SERVICE

ST. JOHN, N. B.—An army of armyworms, tens of millions of them, eating a wide swath thru the wooded country between Fredericton Junction and Harvey, crossed the railway line here today and seriously disrupted train service. Driving wheels on locomotives spun around over the slippery worms falling to grip the rails and many trains were stalled in the forested areas. Engines were doubled on all trains, and steam spread on the rails before traffic was able to proceed slowly.

CHURCH CONGRESS
JUNE 21-26
First Christian Americanization Meeting Ever Held
TWENTY-FIVE SPEAKERS
Many New Features At Minneapolis Gathering

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(By Associated Press)—Sponsored by the National Christian Missionary Association, an organization of the Disciples of Christ, the first Christian Americanization congress ever held will convene in Minneapolis June 21 to 26, inclusive.
Discussion of problems confronting the leaders of Americanization work and the arranging of plans by which the work may be carried on with greater energy are objects of the congress, according to W. T.
Fisher, secretary. The association,
Mr. Fisher said, has for its purpose the teaching of American ideals of citizenship and Christian effort to the foreigners in this country.
A one-day meeting, given entirely to the work of Christian Evangelism and Americanization in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northern Iowa, North and South Dakota and Southwest Canada will be a feature of the congress, according to Secretary Fisher. During this session, an operation will be conducted for the discussion of the problems of these states.
Thirty addresses to be delivered by twenty-five prominent leaders among the disciples of Christ and from other communions are on the program. Prominent among the addresses will be speeches by Governor
J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota; Judge
J. J. Wade, of the United States District Court, section of Iowa; Judge S. A. Finger, of Chicago; and J. J. Richard Olson, church editor of the Minneapolis Journal.
Many of the well-known leaders of the Disciples of Christ will be in attendance. Among them will be President E. C. Sanderson, of the Bible University, Eugene, Ore.; Dr. P. Y. Pendleton, pastor of the First Christian Church, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Rev. C. J. Sharp, Hammond, Ind.; superintendent of group evangelism, Dr. John L.
Brandt, Muskogee, Okla.; Dr. S. S.
Lapin, president of the Congress,
Bedford, Ind.; Dr. Ira M. Boswell, pastor of the First Christian Church,
Georgetown, Ky.; Dr. J. B. Briney,
Crestwood, Ky.; Dr. M. P. Hayden, Minneapolis; Dr. M. M. Davis, Dallas, Tex.; Dr. J. H. O. Smith, Pittsburg, Kan.; John Christopherson, president International Christian Bible College, Minneapolis; Mrs. T.
E. Ayars, Christian Women's Benevolent Association, St. Louis; Rev. R. E. Tommerlin, pastor of the Church of Christ, Mason, Ky.; Dr. R. C. Foster, pastor of the Church of Christ, Springfield, Ky.; and Dr. David Eugene Olson, founder of the International Christian Bible College, Minneapolis.
The congress will conclude June 26 with commencement exercises for Bible class students.
Rallies of ministers of the northwest states will be held during the five-day meeting.

RUSSIAN PEOPLE FEAR CHEKA

One of Every Four People Are Red Spies

SOVIET FRIENDLY TO U. S.

Lenine Still Popular Says Escaped American Prisoner

RIGA — (International News Service) — Captain Merlan C. Cooper, of Jacksonville, Fla., who escaped from a Soviet war prisoners' camp near Moscow on April 12 and who walked and rode on freight train to the Latvian frontier, has arrived here with new stories of the government in Russia. During his eight months in Soviet Russia, Captain Cooper found the prisons bad, but "well administered and as good as can be expected."

Captain Cooper gives the entire credit for his successful escape to Lieutenant Sokolowski and Captain Zaleski, two Polish officers who accompanied him. These officers, he relates, succeeded in convincing the peasants and even some of the guards on the railroad bridges that they were escaping Austrian war prisoners and that Cooper was a German prisoner anxious to get home. He says that both men have "real American nerve," for they bluff everyone they met and learned how to flip freight trains with the expert ease of an American hobo. They also aided Cooper to build the bush leantos at night.

These leantos were not very warm and Captain Cooper tells how they would drive them forth at 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning to continue their tramp munching on their daily ration of a pound of black bread, their only food during the entire trip.

TRADED CLOTHES FOR FOOD
"The peasants refused to give us food so we had to trade the extra suits of underclothing which we took with us for bread," said Captain Cooper. "When we had traded all of the clothing that we could possibly spare and keep from freezing at night I traded my pipe, which had a silver band on it, for seven pounds of bread and with this we finished the trip."

"The most exciting moment came about three days out of Moscow while we were waiting by the railroad for a freight to pass. Two guards came along and we had to lie in a ditch full of icy water for two hours while they talked of the probability of trade. Another time that I was scared was when we were lying on top of one of the big heating ovens in the home of the peasant smuggler who agreed to get us into Latvia for the price of my shoes and Lieutenant Sokolowski's overcoat."

"The entire family sleeps on three ovens during the winter and beneath there is generally a space for a few pigs or calves. We were up there for twenty-four hours and the lieutenant slept most of the time and kept me busy holding his nose to stifle his snoring when the family was receiving Red soldier's letters."

LENINE MOST POPULAR
"My information about Russia was gathered from the influx and outflow of the prisoners in the various prison camps where I was stationed and also from the peasants whom I met during the winter when I worked on railroads entering Moscow and during my escape."

"Lenine is still the most popular man in Russia today and his personal following far outnumbered Trotsky. He is idolized and his pictures are found in every conceivable place. Other pictures and posters have quotations from his speeches which are accepted by the peasants like the gospel," as the negroes say in Florida."

According to Captain Cooper travelers in Russia today will see two pictures of Lenine to every one of Trotsky. A favorite poster is one depicting Karl Marx in the center and flanked with two smaller pictures of the Russian leaders, Trotsky and Cooper declares, has not the confidence of the masses of the people that Lenine has, and many persons expressed the opinion that the biggest single factor holding the Russian Government today is Lenine's personal prestige.

"Despite the faith of the people in Lenine the masses of the people are dissatisfied," continued Cooper. "But they are dissatisfied in a hopeless way, for they have accepted the Communist government with an air of fatalism and those who might have overturned the present government and established a new government in Russia have all been disposed of. The people are hopeless and say that Russia faces two extremes. One is the continued rule of the Communists which is undergoing some modifications and the other is complete anarchy which would come if Communism should fall. I believe that the Soviets will rule for some time to come."

FEAR OF THE CHEKA
"The present government of Russia would be a popular government if it could feed the people and if the Cheka were abolished. The Cheka has everyone terrorized. The saying is that one of every four persons is a member of one of the Chekas, or a spy. One of the Russian officers with whom I had been imprisoned and who had been informed that he was to be released told me that at home he had four children and that he was almost afraid to go home to them for the fear that one of them would be a spy."

"Whether or not the Cheka will be abolished is a question. It is probable that the leaders of the systems would not exist very long if it was abolished and so they defend 'The Terror,' as it is known, as necessary to the transition period thru which the country is passing."

PRINCE DANILO IS EXILED

King of Italy Bans Brother-in-Law From Country

STILL LOVES GAY TIMES

Emmanuel Objects to Parties When He Pays Bills

By Newton C. Parks

PARIS—Prince Danilo of Montenegro, once a dashing figure who was written into a popular American comic opera, has been practically barred from Italy by King Victor Emmanuel, his brother-in-law, according to word reaching here from Rome.

Though Danilo celebrates his fiftieth birthday in a few months he still carries all his youthful dash and love for gay times. That's what the King of Italy objects to and he wants the prince to stay out of Italy until he gets old enough to settle down.

Prince Danilo was twenty-five and extremely good looking when his sister, the Princess Helena, married the present ruler of Italy. He loved a good time and always had it, whether in Paris, at Monte Carlo or one of the other resorts of the French and Italian Riviera.

PRESENTED BILLS TO KING

When he visited Rome Danilo was received with all the honor due the brother of the Queen. But when court forms in his honor were all over he slipped away to saunter of his own with friends of his own choice and these little parties angered both the King and Queen Helena.

The King's temper soared skyward when he learned of a series of exploits that became the laughing stock of Rome, Prince Danilo, in the story went, would gather several of his friends, spend a big night in an Italian place of amusement and when the bill was presented, wave it away with the exclamation:

"Don't bother me with that—take it up to the palace to my brother-in-law, the King."

WOX OVER KING'S SPY

Prince Danilo moved across the Italian frontier to the French Riviera when the King voiced his displeasure but he kept in touch with things in Italy. His royal brother-in-law wanted to keep in touch with his movements and sent an Italian secret service agent to watch him. But Danilo's ways were so captivating that he won over the King's "spy," made a bosom companion of him and even borrowed some of the expense money furnished by Victor Emmanuel.

That wasn't all. The prince suddenly decided to go into business, making a specialty of choice Italian wines and little bits that struck the fancy of French gourmands. The Italian customs authorities heard about this and after several months' investigation are said to have discovered that goods on whose export an embargo had been placed found their way easily into the hands of the Prince's company in France.

Some customs inspectors were dismissed and the King wrote a hot letter to Danilo, advising him to keep out of Italy. The Prince wrote back hotly denying all the charges and threatening to do a lot of things to Italy if Montenegro ever gets to be a real country again and he gets on the throne.

AUTHOR OF DIVORCE PLAY HAS OWN CASE

LONDON—After writing one of the most popular divorce plays of this generation, the author himself appeared in the role of petitioner in the divorce court.

R. G. Hemmerdek, author of "The Butterfly on the Wheel," applied to the courts here and asked that the bonds uniting himself and his wife be severed by law.

At the last moment, however, there was apparently a change of heart, for he told the court that he and his wife had made up their differences.

The petition was at once dismissed and the Butterfly remains on the Wheel—for the time being.

AID OF IRISH BY U.S. DEMANDED

Bought in Measure Framed for MAY BE SUCCESSOR TO GOMPERS
A. F. of L. Convention

STRONG BACKING CLAIMED

Also Includes Request That Britain Pay American Debt

DENVER, Colo. — (By Associated Press) — The recognition of the Irish republic, withdrawal of the British troops from Ireland and the repayment by Great Britain of the nine billion dollars loaned by the United States, is demanded in the resolution tentatively drafted by Irish sympathizers to be submitted to the convention of the American Federation of Labor here next week. This resolution, it was learned today, has been decided upon at a meeting of delegates headed by Peter J. Brady, of New York.

The Irish sympathizers will ask the federation to call upon President Harding to communicate immediately by a message to congress asking the recognition of the Irish republic and formally protest against the alleged "barbarous warfare" being carried on by British troops in Ireland.

Repayment of the English loan is asked on the ground that the British government is using the money to maintain soldiers to suppress Ireland and "other small nations" and to carry out a great naval expansion program.

"Approximately 95 per cent of the delegates to the convention are Irish sympathizers," said Mr. Brady, who asserted that support to the resolution has been pledged by a large majority.

Elimination of jurisdictional and inter-union strikes was the main issue before the convention of the building trades department of the federation today.

John L. Lewis

There is talk that John L. Lewis, head of the miners, may succeed Samuel Gompers as president of the American Federation of Labor. The fight is expected to occur when this body holds its convention at Denver next week.

SOLDIERS' BODIES TO REACH COLUMBUS TODAY

COLUMBUS. — Bodies of 72 soldiers from Ohio and other central states were due to arrive in Columbus late today from France, for distribution and final burial. They will be met at the train by a detachment of United States regulars from Columbus barracks and by Governor Davis and other state officials.

DAVIS IS NOT A MILLIONAIRE

Rose From Steel Puddler to Harding's Cabinet

By HARRY WARD

WASHINGTON — (International News Service) — Secretary of Labor Davis today confessed that he isn't a millionaire. The man who rose from a puddler in the steel mills of Pittsburgh to the dignity of a cabinet officer laughingly said that the report that he was in the magical class of the wealthy was "greatly exaggerated."

He then explained how the report that he was a millionaire got abroad. It appears that long before he ever dreamed of sitting around the Cabinet table of the President of the United States he had occasion as director-general of the Loyal Order of Moose to apply to a Pittsburgh banker for the loan of $1,000,000 to finance certain activities of that fraternal organization. The banker, taking the application under consideration, called in some of his associates for advice.

"Who is this man Davis?" he asked. "Why, he is the general organizer of the Moose and every one of its 600,000 members pays him $2 a year," one of the bankers replied. "He got the loan all right, and that is how the story originated that he was a millionaire."

"It is true that every member of the order pays $2 a year," said Secretary Davis, "but that $2 goes to make a home for children and the maintenance of a school to educate them."

It is one of his creeds that "every child is entitled to at least a high school education and a trade." In Mooseheart, Ind., the order now maintains a school where orphan children numbering 1,200 are being educated and trained to make useful citizens. This school is one of the hobbies of the Labor Secretary and he is always planning to increase its scope and effectiveness.

"Jim" Davis, as the new Secretary of Labor is affectionately called, is a "jiner." He is a member of eighteen fraternal and other organizations, but the Loyal Order of Moose claims most of his attention. He joined that order in 1896, becoming its 247th member. Since 1907 he has been its director-general and under his administration it now numbers over 600,000 members.

The Labor Secretary was born in Tredegar, Wales, on October 27, 1873, and was brought to this country by his parents in 1881. When but eleven years of age he started out to work and found hard employment in the steel mills at Sharon, Pa. In 1892 he went to Pittsburgh and worked in the steel mills there as a puddler. Later he went to Ellwood, Ind., and became County Clerk. He still holds a union card in the Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers' International Union.

LIMA MAN TO HEAD ADA SCHOOLS; GENERAL NEWS OF HARDEN-CO TOWN

ADA—(Special)—W. M. Binkley, for several years a teacher in the Lima schools, Central high school faculty, will be the superintendent of the public schools here next year. He is a Harvard graduate and is recognized as a strong school man. Only two vacancies exist in the teaching force of the public schools here.

Former Superintendent Riggie of the Ada schools will assume a similar position at Perryburg. His work here was of a very satisfactory character.

Vernon Templeton, operated on at the Findlay hospital, for relief of appendicitis, is reported improving nicely.

The Young hotel here, now under the management of Mr. Gallia, will change hands June 10. Harry Rosser of Washington, D. C., will take charge.

Brigham S. Young has been given an important position with the War Risk department in Washington and expects to take up his work within a few days.

The summer school for teachers here has started off nicely and a large number is registered for the courses.

TRIO OF TRAFFIC VIOLATORS FINED

Three traffic violators were present before Judge Jackson in police court Friday morning and each received a fine commensurate with his respective violation.

Babe Bream, 219 S. Main-st and C. C. Black, 215 W. High-st, were each fined $10 for speeding. W. H. Wellman, 726 W. Elm-st pleaded guilty to passing a street car while passengers were alighting and received a $1 fine.

Homer Tremaine, 1212 Lakewood-ave ordered into police court by Motorcop Glover Thursday night, failed to appear at the morning session. He is to answer a charge of speeding.

All season we have maintained a strong line of suits at these prices. Recently an opportunity was presented to us to obtain some suits of finer qualities at a very worthwhile concession. So, for this important June event we made plans for a large number of these suits, which offer a great increase in value together with a marked decrease in price.

Every suit is distinctly an Eilerman suit, of unusual choice woolens and tailored according to our own exacting requirements. Weights and patterns that are exceptionally appropriate at this season—gray and tan herringbones, pencil stripes, small checks and blue serges predominate.

Pathe Phonographs

Play All Makes of Records Perfectly

Conceived in Paris decades ago and delicately perfected as time went on, Pathe music has long enjoyed the approval of our musically fastidious allies.

Ears that would be distraught by the blare of "talking machines" have welcomed the jeweled music of Pathe Phonographs.

Pathe—the one phonograph that has every good point that you always reckoned a real phonograph ought to have, and supreme in every point.

Supreme in design, in material and in workmanship, the finest phonograph produced today.

Supreme in tone—and that is the one biggest thing that really counts with any phonograph.

The Pathe system of sound reproduction is scientifically correct. Construction of reproducer and tone arm and tone chamber, all mathematically right. In addition to all the good features of ordinary phonographs the Pathe Phonograph has many exclusive features, including the pure tone chamber and the famous Pathe Sapphire Ball.

Don't be content with half a phonograph—get the complete phonograph—the one that plays all makes of records—and plays them perfectly!

IRISH CREAMERIES ARE WRECKED

Greatest Damage Done By This Form of Destruction

592,780 MEN ARE IDLE

British Night Raids Are Disastrous to Families

NEW YORK.—(By International News Service).—Destruction of the Irish creameries, fifty-three of which have been totally wrecked, results in far greater harm and general distress than any other form of destruction by British reprisal in Ireland, according to a statement issued recently by the American Committee on Irish Relief here.

The Irish creamery is the center usually of the products of the farms for miles around. It forms the market place for the great landed estates and the small farmer as well. In the destruction of a large creamery the source of supply and the depot for sending products are destroyed to the starving farmers.

Statistics compiled by the American Committee on Irish Relief, secured from official and semi-official sources in Ireland, show that the dependents of those whose houses, shops, business premises, farm produce and other property have been destroyed number approximately 13,000, most of whom have lost all their worldly possessions. As a consequence of this destruction, whole or partial, of more than 1,000 shops, 7 creameries, 29 factories and works, unemployment is seriously aggravated.

The report of the committee also shows that there are 592,780 registered and non-registered unemployed men in Ireland, including their dependents. The destitute persons in workhouses and others in need of relief number 60,075. Sentenced, arrested and interned Irish prisoners number 4,981. Dependents of such number 12,000. Expelled persons and dependents in the Belfast district alone number 30,000. The dependents of persons wounded and murdered by Crown forces number approximately 3,000. The dependents of persons wounded and murdered by Crown forces number approximately 30,000.

The work of destruction, the American Committee announces, is carried out in broad daylight by sober men acting under discipline. There have been a great many cases, however, the committee announces, where the incendiaryism is done after midnight, without warning and by undisciplined men, often drunk, forces of soldiers or constabulary, are rushed to the doomed village or town. The first warning the sleeping inhabitants are given of the arrival of the Crown forces is the burning of houses buried into their homes and the roaring of petrol-fed flames, the report of the American Committee reads.

The report of the committee continues: "Old men and women of all ages rush half naked from their homes, carrying children. The feeble and the sick are crowded into carts, and the terror-stricken throng hurries into the fields and hills, where they lie clothed only in their night gowns, shivering with cold, faint from hardship and terror, the children and the weaker women insensible or hysterical. Babies have been born in the fields during such scenes. The food depots of the villages are frequently destroyed, and the population has to go without food until it can be brought in from outside. Scenes such as these have occurred in scores of villages and towns, and in hundreds of isolated farmsteads in lonely country districts.

Added to this individual distress is the national loss caused by the normal disturbance of trade which is now general throughout Ireland."

UNEMPLOYMENT ON WANE IN FRANCE

PARIS.—Unemployment in France is not as serious as in many other European countries. There are at present about 180,000 unemployed and only 72,000 of these are receiving out of work pay. Reports received in Paris from all the important industrial districts show that industry is gradually recovering from the effects of the war. The cost of materials having now considerably decreased building is to be actively pushed along and particularly the building of living quarters so as to ease, if possible, the shortage of houses both in Paris and in the provinces. A resumption in the motor building industry is also reported as well as in the shoe-making business, where the retail prices of shoes show a slight decrease.

CINCINNATI.—The will of Samuel Strauss leaves his $100,000 estate to relatives, employees and charities.

CROATIAN GIRL MARRIES RICH AMERICAN

BOSTON.—An overseas courtship between an elderly and wealthy Louisiana oil broker and the granddaughter of his former chum had its culmination here in marriage an hour after 25 year old Maria Kramer, a Croatian, disembarked from the steamer. The groom is John Berache, sixty-nine years of age. He came here 40 years ago and amassed a fortune. His courtship and proposal and his bride's acceptance were entirely by mail.

Pale Children Need Iron
Lack of iron in the blood saps the strength of mind and body. Give the Kiddies GROVE'S IRON TONIC SYRUP and watch its strengthening effect. Very pleasant to take. 75c.

COLUMBUS.—Arthur L. Clemens, Cincinnati, was re-elected president of the Ohio Association of Insurance Men at closing session of convention.

CITY AUDITOR PAYS OUT $35,000 ON SEWER WORK

Friday was pay day at the city hall. Auditor David L. Rupert drew three checks in favor of W. J. Irwin & Son, sewer contractors. The three slips of paper had a total cash value of $35,007.96, due for construction work to date on Lake-wood-ave. Collett-st and N. Central-ave sewers. Payments of estimates on the three projects was as follows: Lake-wood-ave relief trunk, $3,593.80; Collett-st lateral $7,744.99; N. Central $24,669.17.

A Kiddie Koop for Your Baby

Vacation time calls for a means of keeping baby clean, safe and out of mother's way. A Kiddie Koop is that means. He can sleep, play, in fact live in a Kiddie Koop. It can be draped and the bed raised for a bassinet for the smaller baby and used as a crib for the older one. Among the accessories is a board floor to adjust for the play hours, and is built so that it cannot tip over. It is all white and of the best materials. A Kiddie Koop is an economy and you will find it one of the best investments that can be made to save mother's time and energy and baby's health. May we have the privilege of demonstrating it to you?

GROUP WILL TOUR BIBLE LANDS

25 Educators And Clergymen to Make Trip

BOSTON, Mass. — (By Associated Press) — Missionary journeys of Paul the Apostle will be retraced by a group of twenty-five educators, clergymen and others who will make a tour of exploration and study of Bible lands this summer under the leadership of Professor Albert E. Bailey of the Boston University School of Religious Education.

The party, which will sail from New York, will inspect the synagogue in Corinth which has recently been excavated by an American American archaeological expedition headed by Dr. Ralph C. Hoyle of New York, and will visit also the site of Paul's famous speech to the Athenians on Mars Hill. Other stops will be at Thessalonica, Smyrna, Ephesus, Tarsus, and Antioch.

Accompanying Professor Bailey will be Rev. B. P. Martin of Marshfield, Mass., Bruce Baxter, professor of Biblical literature at Union College, Albany, N. Y., John R. Baker, Rev. P. A. Robinson of Toronto, Canada, evangelistic secretary of the Presbyterian church of Canada, Miss Helen W. Lemon, Miss Eva Hogg, and Miss C. R. Gerner, Canadian evangelistic workers, Mrs. Margaret W. Eggleston, assistant professor of religion at Boston University, and Miss Lois Bailey, daughter of the expedition's leader, an instructor at Boston University.

Returning, the party will leave Naples for Havre, from which port they will sail for the United States, on August 23. At Naples, Professor Bailey will leave the party and continue around the world studying and collecting specimens of religious art for the University. In Java he will explore the Borobudur, Buddhist temple, said to contain the finest specimens of Buddhist art in existence.

CHILD STRANGLES TO DEATH WHILE NURSING; MRS. GUY SHAFFER DIES

SPENCERVILLE — (Special) — William Wheeler Roberts, four months old babe of Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, is dead from strangling while nursing. The little boy was just recovering from a stage of whooping cough and while lying in a crib nursing from a bottle, coughed violently. The milk in the bottle entered the child's lungs and death was almost instantaneous.

Funeral services for Mary Glue Shaffer, wife of Guy Shaffer, living north of Spencerville, were held at the Trinity M. E. church, Spencerville, Friday. Death was due to a complication of diseases, following the birth of a son. The babe, Glen Lewis, is living.

Company K's rifle team, composed of First Lieutenant Paul W. Cochran and twelve men, leave Saturday for Camp Perry where the team will practice for a week and will then enter the state rifle tournament.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Often Followed By Serious Gastric Ulcers, Says Authority. Many Causes of Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Says Keep Stomach Sweet With Macein.

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastric ulcers, accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with peppy or artificial stimulants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines. The acid, which caused the trouble, remains in your stomach as dangerous as ever.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Reburated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally.

There is nothing better to sweeten and settle an acid stomach than Reburated Magnesia. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might and your stomach and feels fine in just a few minutes. Reburated Magnesia is the special magnesia that should be used for this purpose and it can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, sure and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive. — Adv.

FARMERS IN COURT DISPUTE OVER LINE FENCE BETWEEN LANDS

Dispute over a line fence has caused two farmers in Auglaize to enter common pleas court to adjust their troubles.

Alvin Ingelude, who owns 24 acres of land, secured an injunction to prevent A. M. Harrod from encroaching on his land to the extent of 12 feet wide on one end and five feet on another, a distance of 33 rods. The petition recites both were to keep the fence in repair. Ingelude says that when it came time for Harrod to make repairs, he constructed a new fence and encroached upon his land. The old line fence has been there for 30 years and Ingelude prays that the court decide to keep it there, as it has always been considered the boundary line between the two farms.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
BERLIN — All Germany is sending congratulations to Herr and Frau Friedrich Manns, of Berlin, who are celebrating their 70th wedding anniversary. The Berliner Tagblatt announces that the seventh anniversary is the "Radium Wedding Day." Nothing is said about gifts of radium.

Herr Manns was born October 14, 1823, and his wife July 16, 1831. They are especially regarded as heroic Germans, because both of them went to West Prussia to war during the phibiselle. The city of Berlin will officially present them with a bouquet.

ALLEGED TRAFFICKERS IN PUTNAM-CO BONDS MUST FACE COURT TRIAL

George Sullivan, keeper of an alleged questionable place, and Harry F. Everett, former saloon-keeper, both of Bucyrus, must stand trial on charges of trafficking in United States bonds, believed to have been stolen from the Farmers' Banking company, Putnam-co., to the penitentiary where they are.

Trial of the cases has been set now confined.

for Tuesday and Wednesday, July 5 and 6, in Bucyrus, before Common Pleas Judge Walter Wright.

The bonds are said to have disappeared at the time of robbery of the Pandora bank some years ago. The cases grew out of an explosion in George Sullivan's barn in July, 1919, when the bonds were found concealed in an automobile tire. Subsequent developments caused both Sullivan and Everett to be sent to the penitentiary where they are.

LIMA CITIZEN MADE STATEMENT TWENTY MONTHS AGO AND TODAY GIVES ANOTHER PRAISING DRECO

Says He is Still Well and Strong, Able to Do Hard Work Which Proves That Dreco Does Not Simply Boost You Up a Short While, But That Results Are Permanent

Two years ago Mr. Joseph J. Zeigenbuch residing at 443 E. Pearl St., Lima, Ohio, took Dreco for kidney disorder, backache, rheumatism, stomach trouble, pains in his limbs and nervousness. Dreco did him a lot of good, and today he says that he still feels fine and his old trouble never returned. Read his two letters dated twenty months apart.

Lima, Ohio, Sept. 13th, 1919.

"I have been suffering for some time with backache, rheumatic pains in my arms, limbs and muscles, my kidneys were out of order and roused me during the night. My sleep being broken this way made my general health go backward. I became very nervous and my liver was sluggish. I have taken a full treatment of Dreco and can say that my troubles are over. I never have to get up during the night, bowels are regular and rheumatism completely relieved. Dreco is fine medicine."

Lima, Ohio, May 26th, 1921.

"I am glad to state that my troubles have never returned, am feeling fine, enjoying my meals, have no more trouble from gas and my sleep is sound and refreshing. Able to work regular and don't hesitate to say Dreco did all this for me. Dreco is a medicine of real merit and anyone suffering from the same troubles I had can take Dreco and feel sure they will get excellent results."

Mr. Day, the well known Dreco expert, has headquarters at Hunter's Drug Store, 43 Public Square, to meet the local public and explain the merits of this great remedy. See him today.

OPEN LETTERS

To Citizens of Lima
DEAR FOLKS: My gratitude is herewith expressed to you abundantly for the splendid manner in which you are responding to the request for aid for a mother in distress, who, altho now the mother of four small children and left in absolute want by the husband and father, is soon to go again down into the valley of the shadow of death that a new life may be born into the world.

Tenders of aid coming in such large numbers and so spontaneously, indicates that your hearts are in the right place and that you have a proper conception of the Biblical injunction: "Inasmuch as ye do it unto the least of these, My children, ye do it also unto Me."

LIMA BEANE.

To County Commissioners
BOYS: Thank you very much for starting the repair work on the part of the highway between the paving on the Findlay-rd and the railroad tracks. This stretch of road, leading into my city from one of the chief thoroughfares, has caused me untold worry. It was as bad as a public highway could possibly get and be passable. You are doing those who use the road and me a great favor.

LIMA BEANE.

To Celebration Advocates
DEAR FRIENDS: It has been so many years since I have had the opportunity to participate in a really big, rousing and grand celebration of the 4th of July, that I am mighty glad you have taken the initial step toward planning a monster observance of the 145th anniversary of American independence.

Lima is a great city, constantly growing and improving and broadening in every way, but I sincerely trust that I will never become so big, so busy and so occupied that I will lose interest in and neglect to become enthused over the prospect of a 4th of July celebration. I'm for it, strong. Count on me if assistance is needed to make the proposed event a success.

LIMA BEANE.

To Fire Chief Mack
MY DEAR JOHN: Just because there has been an untimely lull in the number of calls for the service of your departments recently, don't permit yourself to harbor the idea that fire fighting apparatus and a force of men to man them is not necessary.

I am very glad that the fire fiend has laid off in Lima lately and that your departments have not been called upon to fight raging flames. However, it is necessary that you be waiting and ready when the call comes. The city and everybody is money ahead when your departments have the least to do. I hope that the lull in fire calls will be continued indefinitely.

LIMA BEANE.

To Rt. Rev. Bishop A. J. Schwertner
MY DEAR FRIENDS: Remembering you as the pastor of St. John's church of this city, before being called to the important position of chancellor of the Toledo diocese, I am reminded of the splendid service you gave your congregation in this city; your indefatigable energy and zeal and your uniform excellence as a citizen, interested in everything for the benefit of Lima.

Now that you have been elevated to the very important position of Bishop of the diocese of Wichita, Kansas, I congratulate you and express the sentiment most heartily that your superiors in the church you represent in such a splendidly dignified and capable manner, chose wisely and well in deciding upon your appointment to the Bishopric.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Property Owners
DEAR FRIENDS: In my frequent peregrinations about the city, thru the principal residential sections, I have been impressed with the uniformly splendid displays of plants and flowers that grace lawns and dooryards and in many instances the street lawns. The profusion of nature's bloom is proof of the artistic sentiment that pervades the hearts and minds of many of my people and demonstrates that you are lovers of the beauties of nature.

While commending the many who have thus aided greatly in beautifying my city, I regret that a greater number of my people are not possessed of the same desire to make beautiful the surroundings where they have their abiding place and which they call home.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Lodge of Elks
DEAR BOYS: I'm with you strong in your plans for a proper observance of Flag Day at Fawcett park, Sunday afternoon. In view of the fact that the very foundation of your order is patriotism and love of the grand old flag, it is only fitting and proper that you observe with special program the annual day set aside for the purpose of honoring Old Glory.

That the general public should unite with you in your patriotic effort needs not the saying. I trust that as many as possible will be present at Fawcett park Sunday afternoon.

LIMA BEANE.

To the Good Roads Council
FRIENDS: Your determination to "keep the pot boiling" in your activity in behalf of good roads, is pleasing information as it comes to me. I have been impressed by the fact, in times past, that a rousing big good roads meeting once a year never accomplished much in the matter of highway betterment.

The announcement that you intend to call a meeting of the Allen-co Good Roads council at least once each month indicates to me that you mean business and that you will get results. Stick to your determination and keep the good work moving.

LIMA BEANE.

To the Red Cross
DEAR FRIENDS: Your task of affording succor to the distressed, relieving the needy and extending a helping hand where needed is a big one and I appreciate the fact that where charity is so generous, there are instances where you no doubt are imposed upon.

Under the circumstances, you are not to be blamed for exercising the greatest care and caution to prevent unworthy cases being given financial assistance. If the uniform of the army or navy is being used by imposters as a means of securing assistance not merited, I trust that you will quickly expose those who are guilty. Your organization cannot be in the position of denying aid to the worthy, but the unworthy should be denied. Your action in scrutinizing closely all applications made by strangers is the safe plan.

LIMA BEANE.

To Business Men
GENTLEMEN: Despite the fact that thine and experience has taught that cashing checks for strangers in a practice that invariably ends in loss, bad paper continues to be floated, in Lima as well as elsewhere.

Banks require proper identification before a check is cashed when presented by a stranger and business men should do likewise. It is best to play safe.

Here's a motto to paste in your hat: "Honor thy father and mother, but not strangers' checks."

LIMA BEANE.

To County Officials
GENTLEMEN: I am pleased with the manner in which you look after your public buildings in the center of my city. They are always neat and the premises are kept in unusually good condition. I have noticed, however, that there is a scarcity of flowers in the court house yard. You have a couple of small beds, but the thought has come to me that you could make this yard much more beautiful by a few more flowers, some shrubbery and plants. Why not try it?

LIMA BEANE.

To Ken Johnson To J. C. Hartline
DEAR BOYS: I wish to congratulate you, as Allen-co members of the Harding Highway association, that you have contributed your part to the success of the movement intended to bring into actual existence the Harding Highway, thru Allen and other counties.

Of course, I regret that the friends of the Lincoln Highway are temporarily disappointed, but that the important highway that means so much to Allen-co is to be given attention first, is gratifying. I'm for good highways, anywhere, all the time, but I feel that I am to be pardoned for being just a bit selfish in wishing Allen-co roads to come first in improvement.

It is useless to give up hope and

WHAT'S YOUR FIVE FAVORITE MOVIES?

HERE'S SUGGESTED LIST--REVIEW OF CURRENT PLAYS LOCALLY

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

THE five best pictures released during the first quarter of the year 1921, as picked by the New York Times, is an unusual and interesting list, a trifle mixed, but as good a list as could be found, because of the varied types of pictures represented.

The list is started with Charlie Chaplin's "The Kid." Then comes "The Old Swimmin' Hole," with Charles Ray. This is classified as an advance, because there were no sub-titles used. Both of these pictures were well received by local theatre-goers.

The other three, which has not as yet reached our city, are "The Four Horsemen," "Sentimental Tommy" and "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," the latter a foreign-made movie with a weird and spooky theme.

If you were going to see five motion pictures on five successive days, probably these five would give you as much enjoyment as any five we could select. They're the pickles and pastry, roast beef and salad in the motion picture meal that the New York Times selects.

If you, for instance, were going to be cast away on a desert island, what five motion pictures, shown in the last three months, would you take with you? There's something for you to think about and write about.

"THE MOUNTAIN WOMAN" WITH GOOD OLD PEARL

A GAIN it's the old, lovable, intrepid, roughhouse Pearl White of the serials. Only in this picture, "The Mountain Woman," they call her Alexander.

Her father gave her the name which he had picked out for the boy he had hoped would come. Because he wanted a son so badly, he made one out of the girl the gods had laid on his altar. Among the mountains then Alexander McGivern grew up, doing the things most boys do and wearing boy's clothing.

Her father meets a tragic death and Alexander finds herself the man of the house. There are logs that must be gotten down the river, and she, too short of help, sees that they teach their destination, not hesitating to swing a good strong right when occasion demands.

When she is paid for her timber she becomes an object of interest to the various gentlemen of the road who plan a highway robbery. But they find Alexander ready for them.

Towards the end of the picture that which is generally known as Love Interest, bursts into bloom and Alexander, the tomboy, becomes a pleasing and womanly young woman, wearing beautiful clothes and using a come-hither eye instead of the go-thither fist that had been her former weapon.

"The Mountain Woman" is well put on and has heaps of good, clean action. Some of the scenery is magnificent and the production is all that it should be.

At the Sigma today and for the remainder of the week.

MAX LINDER IS BACK, FIT AS A FIDDLE

MAX LINDER, having survived the bullets of the late war, is back at work and judging from the people are taking his new comedy "Seven Years Bad Luck," they are all glad to see him back again.

A number of years ago, the name of Max Linder headed the list of film fun-makers and he was popular in the manner that comedians are popular. He may or may not have been funny. But I do like his "Seven Years Bad Luck."

The situations in the comedy are both absurd and amusing. Particularly the situation where a double of the Frenchman is made to stand back of a mirror frame and go thru all the motions the star goes thru, because the mirror is broken and the fact must be kept from him. You've seen the same stunt before, but it has new interest and possibilities in the manner in which Mr. Linder employs it.

As you have probably guessed, the broken mirror starts the ball rolling, and things happen thick and fast until the final reel shows the star with the girl he has had such a terrible time in winning, complacently strolling along the boulevard of attainment, accompanied by a tribe of little Max's and little dogs.

The whole picture is just a bunch of nonsense, funny nonsense, and at times, decidedly unusual nonsense. The cast is all the story needs.

"Seven Years Bad Luck" is the week-end attraction at the Lyric.

ANOTHER FOREIGN BEAUTY IN THE RANKS

YOU all know Pola Negri now. But soon you'll see an actress who is said to completely out-Pola Pola. She is Francesca Bertini and she is Italian. Inside dope says she is a wonderful actress, with a dramatic training that is ex-sive, to say the least. It is said that Paramount is trying to induce Francesca to come to America.

Of course, all such information is rather vague. It would be interesting, tho, to have The Negri, speaking Polish, and The Bertini, speaking Italian, working on emotional scenes at the same time in the same studio, each trying to out-emothe the other. Now, wouldn't it?

VIORA DANIEL TO APPEAR IN TWO NEW CHRISTY COMEDY LEADS

Viola Daniel is one of the new faces of the films. She is a petite little miss who has just graduated from playing leads for male stars to leading the casts in Christie comedies. Usually it works just the other way. A girl starts as a minor actress in a comedy reel and ends by playing leads opposite some well-known male star.

Miss Daniel has played leads with Arbuckle and Max Linder and she was signed by Christie as soon as she closed with these men. She will appear in both "Let Me Explain" and "In for Life."

CLIPPINGS

Doug Fairbanks' pet ambition—to climb to the top of Mt. Everest.

Helen Jerome Eddy is to support George Beban in "The Sign of the Rose."

Estelle Taylor exercises on a treadmill between scenes to keep down her weight.

Coleen Moore, still in her teens, is starting on her nineteenth picture, "Slippy McGee."

Charlie Chaplin made Edna Purviance's part in "Vanity Fair" as important as that of Jackie Coogan in "The Kid."

Y. Shibusaki, secretary of the Movie Club of Tokyo, writes that Edgar comedies are popular in Japan.

"Sidney Franklin," director, had jazz tunes played while he filmed convict extras doing a lock-step in "Courage."

Charlie Ray made his first screen appearance in 1913. That was in "The Favorite Son."

Jack Pickford will star in "A Tailor-Made Man" after he finishes

VIORA DANIEL

co-directing "Mary in 'Little Lord Fauntleroy'."

CLEVER COMEDY

Billie Rhodes is donning the grease paint again for the feminine lead in "The Stolen Umbrella," featuring Victor Potel. This is to be a clever comedy.

FOREIGN NOTE

Czechoslovakia has entered the movie field thru the agency of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, which sends out notice that Julius Kohner, publisher of the Internationale Filmschau, is on his way to this country with "The Golden Wife," produced by Vladimir Slavinski, a Czechoslovakian director, and "Mountain Love," produced by S. Goldin, an American who has been working abroad.

Griffith will make "Sands o' Dee," with Mae Marsh in the star

MR. BILLINGS SPENDS HIS DIME

(By DANA BURNETT.)

"He is a message—Romance!" he said, he and the foot-board. Mr. Billings unrolled the string bound the paper to its handle.
The message was a letter from written in English. Mr. Billings

"It is to be hoped that you find convenient to keep the following business appointment: at 10 o'clock tomorrow evening, 1930, in the backroom of the Casa del Diablo. One of the men will recognize by a red waistcoat will meet about his throat.
He will be waiting near the fountain in the plaza. He will conduct you to the place named. Do not fail, to keep the appointment."
The note was not signed, but Mr.
Billings guessed at once that it was from Excelesencia. He read it thru again, and frowned a little at the peremptory tone of it.

"After all," said Mr. Billings,
"he has paid me half a year's salary in advance. Five thousand dollars!
Isn't he my employer?"
Whereupon Mr. Billings undressed and went to bed.

It was 9 o'clock in the morning.
As Dona Susana lifted her white arms to coil her tresses, there sounded a muffled knock, followed by three knocks more.
Learning forward, Dona Susana pressed the side of her mirror, revealing a small iron barred window set deep in the wall.
Through this window could be seen the face of a man.

"Who is there?" she asked.
"Operative Number One."
"Do you have anything to report?"

"Yes. Last night a message was thrown into Billings' room by the servant Manuel."
"What was the message?"
"I don't know. The important fact is that they are in communication with him. May I ask whether you succeeded in getting anything out of him?"

"Nothing whatever. He is either the cleverest man on earth, or the most innocent. I don't really know which."
"Whichever or whatever he is, we must use him. I will watch the house from the street. If he goes out alone, I will follow him. Meanwhile I suggest that you exert your personal charms."

Dona Susana laughed slightly.
The mirror swung back into place with a faint click. Dona Susana proceeded with her toilet, humming to herself as she did so.
A quarter of an hour afterward
she was having breakfast with Mr.
Billings upon her balcony.

"I have had him this cup," she said gaily. "At first I had thought of giving a small tea, but then decided that you would rather go to the races. Are you fond of sports, Cousin John?"

"Oh, very!" exclaimed Mr. Billings, who, like most Americans had been an inveterate reader of journalistic sporting pages all his life.

"I feel that that must be. Well, then we will lunch at the Jockey Club and spend the afternoon at the track. Tonight we will go to the hating. It is a Cuban game, Cousin John, and very exciting—especially if you bet a little."

"I always bet a little," said Mr.
Billings in a tone of such admirable savoir faire as almost to deceive his own ears. "But I had forgotten my engagement," he ejaculated suddenly.

"Your engagement?"
Mr. Billings replied that he would not let it detain him more than an hour.

At that point the negro Jefferson appeared and announced that His Excellency President Juarez was in the house—was, in fact, ascending the stairs.

"President Juarez!" exclaimed
Mr. Billings.
"Yes," said Dona Susana with a smile. "Did I not say that we were friends? He has a way of dropping in for coffee and good advice.
Ah, Buenas dias Esteban!"

Mr. Billings turned and saw entering the balcony the president of the Republic de Palma—a man of medium height, rather heavily built and in a precise military way, handsome. He greeted Dona Susana graciously, bending low over her hand. Then, at a word, snapped his heels together and bowed stiffly to Mr. Billings.

"Mr. Billings is more than a guest," said Dona Susana. He is "nature."
"Ah," said Juarez, and bowed again. "Dona Susana," he continued, "is the inspiration of our country, the idol of every true patriot. I will confess that she is also the brain of my administration." he ad-

"I have come to solicit a favor," he said with a charming smile.
"May I not ride with you to the fiesta tomorrow night?"

Dona Susana smiled in return.
"I think that you ought to ride with the cabinet, Esteban," she gently answered. "Reasons of state, you know. And then—people might not understand." Glancing toward Mr.
Billings, she added, "So few people do understand!"

"I would understand," declared
Mr. Billings nobly.
"Then, too, we shall all be in costume," urged Juarez. "But there, Forgive me! I know that your judgment in such matters is best. I had merely thought—for once!—to escape the dignity of my office, to be a little bit human."

"Cousin Susana," cried Mr. Billings, rising from his chair. "I beg of you—let the president ride in your carriage."
Dona Susana's doubts apparently were swept away by Mr. Billings generous appeal.

"Very well," she said. "Since Cousin John requests it!"
The instant he had gone, Dona Susana, rising, walked swiftly thru her boudoir to a private drawing-room at the front of the house. Standing in one of the windows of this room, she saw Mr. Billings just crossing the square.

She took her handkerchief from her sleeve and waved it up and down in the window. A man who had been lounging in the park opposite raised his Panama hat, put it back upon his head, and then strode after Mr. Billings.

His hero proceeded directly to the fountain in the plaza. There he perceived a man with a red handkerchief tied about his neck. Mr. Billings stepped forward confidently and addressed this individual.

"Good morning," he said; and then as the latter looked up: "Manuel!" he exclaimed.
"Si, senor! Thanks to God you have come at last."

"Have you been waiting long?"
"Long, senor! I have drunk half the water in the fountain waiting for you."

"Lead on!" said Mr. Billings.
Manuel turned, and walking at a rapid pace, soon left the vicinity of the plaza and the character of the neighborhood through which they passed grew steadily poorer. Finally Mr. Billings, led by the somewhat morose Manuel, reached the Cafe el Amigo del Diablo, and went into an open room with a shabby wooden bar stretched across the rear of it, and little tables distributed about the floor.

Manuel did not pause here. With a brief nod to the bartender, he crossed this room, opened a door at the end of it, and entered a dark passage, half choked with boxes and barrels. This passage led in turn into a second room, a small low-cel-ing chamber very badly lighted and utterly bogged with tobacco smoke.
As Mr. Billings walked into it, a voice said:

"Welcome, senor!"
Our hero blundered forward blinking and gasping. He could discern but dimly the three-figures seated about the table in the center of the room. Then a hair was thrust absolutely against his legs. He sat down abruptly, and found himself gazing into the blurred but benevolent face of Ex-celesencia.

"General Blanco!" he exclaimed.
"I am delighted to see you again!"
"The delight is mutual, senor Billings!" replied the general in his suave, calm tone. "Permit me to make known to you Senor Starbock, the tobacco magnate! Senor Starbock is one of the officers of our company, Senor Billings."

"Pleased to meet you," said Mr.
Billings, cordially giving his hand to the other.
"And this is Colonel Gomez," added Excelesencia. Mr. Billings bowed to the mustachioed, hawk-eyed man who sat across the table.

"Is Colonel Gomez also a member of the company?" he asked potently.
"An indispensable member of it,
senor," replied Starbock.
"By the way!" ejaculated Mr. Billings, and suddenly, putting his hand beneath his coat, he drew out the vil-laneous looking long knife that had come hurrying thru his window the night before. At the sight of the naked steel Starbock jumped up

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

MIS' LAURA, CONFESSOR

Cherry was reflective for several minutes, after these words of Mrs.
King's. She had never stopped to analyze her mother-in-law's affection for her son before, and here, of a sudden was an entirely different conception of it, placed before her in an intimate way that had grown old with Mrs. Randall.
She looked across at Mrs. King, now lost in some thoughts of her own, and rocking to and fro, con-tently. She was a fine motherly sort of woman, with a full, comfortable figure, and twinkling blue eyes, rolls of soft white hair, and a face that showed a certain strength of character.
They had left its indelible marks on her brow, to be sure, but there were plenty of laughing wrinkles to offset these, as well as to tell the world that within dwelt a spirit of rare love and truthfulness.

Mrs. Randall and several other neighbors in the community had told Cherry that "Miss Laura was a queer one, for fair!" One of the mysterious and too often misunderstood "advanced women," with whom the good people of Wellsburg had but little time and patience for. The sort of woman who does not fit in well with the thrown in daily contact. Consequently her road had not been an easy one to travel.

Mrs. King had herself raised three stalwart sons and one daughter. All of the boys were not scattered far and wide with the complete approval of their mother. For Laura King was one of those mothers who believed in allowing her children to follow their own inclinations, and find happiness where they thought it might best be found. She had always been bitterly criticised by the other women of the town for her slackness in this direction, and by her singular lack of firmness where her sons and their futures were concerned.

Her invariable reply to all criticism had been that she "had no patience with the women folks who placed irons round their sons and expected them to stay in the same spot where they were raised, just because they, the mothers, demanded them to. And because their fathers had done so before them." That was a worn-out theory, according to her way of thinking, and Mrs. King was, above all, a positive thinker.

She had loved her children passionately and made many sacrifices for them, as most mothers do, but when they had reached maturity she had loosened the reins, which had never been anything but wisely held, and let them choose their own highroads in life.

"Happiness, my children, is the greatest thing in life," she had admonished each in turn. "Ambition, and everything else, come second to this, never forget it!"
And so, loving her for her goodness, her generosity and her tolerance, the three boys had sailed to foreign ports to see a different life from that with which they had become accustomed in Wellsburg and try their own wings in their own way. All were happy and wrote extravagantly affectionate letters, filled with glowing accounts of their successes and adventures. It was these letters that helped to keep "Miss Laura" so young and jolly.
"Honey," she said suddenly to Cherry. "Honey, come on an' tell me all about it. You know that Miss Laura can be trusted, don't you?"
And Cherry, with a sigh of relief, snuggled closer to the kindly form and smiled up into the motherly eyes bent over her, so tenderly.

NEWPORT, R. I. — An emigrant from Sweden less than six months ago, with no money and few clothes, Martha J. Ekberg, nineteen years old, handsome waitress at the Muen-chinger King Hotel, is now the bride of Burton J. Baldwin, proprietor of that hostelry.
The ceremony was performed in the United Congregational Church, the bride's only attendant being her aunt, Mrs. Charles Stejer.
Quick to learn the duties of a waitress, Miss Ekberg became a favorite of the late S. Amanda S. Muenchinger, owner of the hotel, and immediately after the latter's death, the young Swedish girl came into posses-ful wardrobe of the hotel owner.

By the will of Mrs. Muenchinger the entire $100,000 estate was left to Mr. Baldwin, who had been her managing director for several years.

ALLEN D. ELLIOTT OPPOSES GUYTON

Gets Into Race Friday for Justice of the Peace

FILING TIME IS EXTENDED

Entrants For Place As Opportunity Nears End

Announcement made Friday that Allen D. Elliott, 128 N. West-st., is to make the race for nomination of justice of the peace on the republican ticket, proved a bombshell for Justice William H. Guyton and his supporters. Elliott secured a blank from the office of the election board late Thursday and filed his petition Friday.

Extension of the time limit announced by J. M. Madigan, chairman of the board, to include Friday, was productive, as seven new petitions were filed. Thursday afternoon Madigan ruled that candidates would be granted another day in which to place their petitions on record.

That a hot fight will be injected into the primary by Elliott's announcement, was predicted in political circles. His action leaves but three courses open to Justice Guyton, who is holding office by appointment.

He may not file at all and later enter the race by petition.

Second, he may stand pat, on the theory that possession is nine points of the law and rely on opinion given by council that ruling of Prosecutor Lippincott vacating the office does not apply. This will entail a battle in court that might disrupt the Republican county organization.

Thirdly, he may file a petition and make the race.

PLANS ARE DISARRANGED
Had no opposition appeared, it was understood that Justice Guyton intended standing pat and making a legal battle. A conference was held between Justice Guyton and his counsel late Thursday to discuss matters. Elliott's entry into the race upset plans, however.

When questioned regarding his intentions Friday, Justice Guyton refused to state definitely what course he would pursue. It was learned on reliable authority, however, that he has a petition prepared and signed by the requisite number of voters, ready for filing, if other modes of procedure appear inadvisable.

LAST DAY PETITIONS
Three petitions for school board on the Republican ticket were filed during the morning Friday. They are: Milton Mitchell, 618 Center-st., H. H. Hughes, 129 N. Collett-st., and Ralph W. Austin, 114 N. Collett-st. Austin is making the race for re-election. These three, together with Earl Marmon, will make the race on the G. O. P. ticket. One new candidate for assessor, J. W. Smiley, filed from the fifth ward. G. W. Spees, sixth ward, is the only other candidate for this office on the Republican side. They will be opposed by C. P. Morey and J. P. Drennen, on the Democratic ticket. Carl Hoff and C. W. Westbay, Democrats, are out for assessor, unopposed from wards 1 and 2.

The only other petitions filed up to noon Friday were those of L. C. Allinger, Republican, for school board, and Theodore J. Helmkamp, Democrat, for school board in Delphos. Both men will have opposition, the former running against Isadore Fogeltn and the latter against Frank S. Schenker.

LIONS TO TAKE "Y" BOYS TO CAMP RIDDLE, INDIANA

The Lions are showing in a good many ways that they are a live bunch.

They are to take 45 "Y" boys to Camp Riddle, on Clear Lake in northern Indiana. The boys will leave August 1st and return on the 10th. Prentice Lawrence, camp cook, has been secured again this year. I. G. Maxwell, "Y" physical director, will have charge of the swimming and athletics.

Because of the prospect of a fine auto trip provided by the Lions Club in addition to the joy of camping, it is expected that the camp roster will be filled by July 1st. Boys are already registering for the camp.

Mr. Leeson, boys' secretary, expects to go to Camp Riddle soon to make the final arrangements for the trip. A special swimming pool and athletic field has been provided and this year's camp is expected to be the best ever held.

WILL PROVIDE JOY OF CAMPING FOR LIMA BOYS

The "Y" will conduct a summer camp all summer on the T. R. Hamilton farms, four miles from the city. An outdoor swimming pool is being provided and other arrangements are on to take care of the 400 members of the Boys' Department.

This will be a community affair, as groups of boys from all over the city will be given outings.

The newboys of Lima will meet in the near future to the thrill of an over-night hike.

The "Y" wants every boy in Lima to know the joys of camping this summer.

DECISION JUNE 23

Judge Becker Takes Michael-Davis Case Under Advisement

Hearing of the case of Miss Maude Michael to acquire possession of the $75,000 estate of the late Joseph Wolley, wealthy contractor, 819 W. Market-st., was concluded at 10:45 o'clock, Friday morning. The case began Monday and occupied nearly the entire week. Judge Becker announced he would give his decision on June 23, at 3 p. m.

Concluding testimony showed that Joseph Wolley, who had employed Miss Michael as his housekeeper, had tired of the condition of things about his home and was preparing for a visit to the home of his wife, Mrs. Hazel Newbold, chief contestant in the suit, who came from her home in Arkansas for the hearing. Wolley too had under consideration employment of another housekeeper, a woman as old as himself, witnesses said, but that his death soon after being stricken prevented his intentions being carried out.

MEN ON TRIAL IDENTIFIED AS POSTOFFICE ROBBERS

TOLEDO — Joseph Hughes, post-office employee who was held up during the Toledo postoffice robbery of February 17, identified George Lewis, alias Rogers at the postoffice trial in federal court here this morning.

Hughes walked over to the group of defendants and without hesitation picked out Lewis as one of the men who held him up. Lewis smiled as the identification was made.

W. H. Milroy, a mailclerk, who followed Hughes on the witness stand positively identified Charles Schultz, another of the 18 defendants now on trial, as a second member of the group of five men who held up and robbed the mail truck, on which he was a guard, of ten-mail sacks containing more than $1,000,000 in bonds and currency.

TWO PLEAD GUILTY TO NON-SUPPORT CHARGES

Two recreant fathers pleaded guilty to non-support of their minor children, when brought before Judge Becker late Thursday. They are Byron Hubble, St. Marys, and Roy T. Jennings, N. Jefferson-st.

Hubble is the father of one child and Jennings of two. Sentence by the court was deferred.

HERO'S BODY ARRIVES

DELPHOS — Frank Gramling has received notice from the war department that the body of his son, John B. Gramling, who died in France, April 10, 1918, from apoplexy, while in the army, has arrived in the states and will be sent to Toledo, where burial will take place.

RIGHT OF WAY FOR BEER BILL DEMANDED

WASHINGTON — Right of way for consideration in the house of his bill to prevent the sale of beer to the sick was asked of the house rules committee today by Chairman Volstead of the judiciary committee, who declared immediate action was necessary to prevent the free flow of beer. He insisted that the anti-beer provision and other tightening up features should be put thru without noise.

Committeemen said they saw no need of emergency legislation unless it related to the beer section. Mr. Volstead had asked for a rule to prevent amendments to the bill in the house unless offered by himself, on the ground that it would open the whole prohibition question and lead to weeks of wrangling.

TURNED HIS ROOM INTO FORTRESS

Regular Arsenal Found in Toledo Maniac's Lodging Place

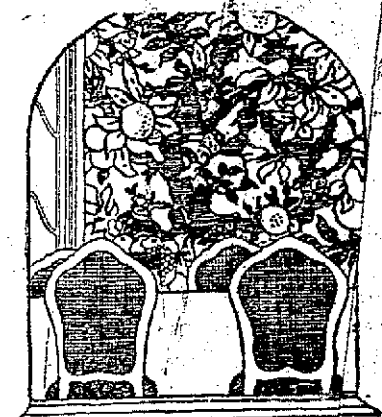

TOLEDO — (By Associated Press) — Discovery of approximately 500 rounds of ammunition and a number of guns of various calibers, in the death chamber of James Kelley, maniac who yesterday killed two policemen, defied a hundred other officers for more than two hours and then terminated the tragic warfare by committing suicide, was announced this morning by detectives.

A search of the dead man's personal belongings revealed numerous letters and catalogues from fire arms companies which showed that Kelley had been seeking prices on every description of rifle, revolver and fire arms.

There was a huge corn cutter, sharpened to a razor edge, in the attic below the room which Kelley had converted into a fortress. A .38 calibre police special revolver, a Colt's 45 and a 32 calibre pistol were found on the bed beside the lunatic's body when police smashed their way into the barricaded room when Kelley fired a bullet through his own heart after his body had been pierced three times by machine gun bullets fired by police.

(By JACK DEMPSEY)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — It's peculiar that some persons insist that I am fighting with this trainer. The fact is that I have an active trainer. One of the best men of his kind, and he is supervising the matter of handling me.

Teddy Hayes is doing a lot of training for me. Jack Kearns, looking things over carefully. Teddy perhaps is the youngest fellow that ever trained a heavyweight champion for an important fight, but Teddy, even the young, has had wonderful experience.

HAYES WAS FIGHTER
He was a fighter himself a dozen years ago, then became trainer for Gus Christie—and Gus always has said that it was the handling of Teddy which kept him in such top shape. Teddy was trainer for Jack Dillon when Jack was at his superlative best. He trained Ritchie Mitchell and a host of other fighters.

Perhaps the greatest testimonial to Teddy's skill as a trainer was accorded to him by the Government. Teddy was boxing instructor at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station and when some of the boys from there went over on the other side to mingle internationalistic fistic battles, Teddy was sent along as trainer, chief advisor and chief second.

UNDERSTANDS CHAMP
I've had a lot of trainers in my time, but in all fairness to every one—none ever handled me with the skill of Teddy. He's been my friend and pal for nearly two years. He understands my moods and my physical make-up better than anyone outside of Kearns. He knows me and he knows what constitutes physical perfection.

Under the dual handling of Teddy Hayes and Jack Kearns I'm going into the battle July 2 in the best physical condition of my career. They've held me back whenever I wanted to tear loose, and they are timing my condition in such a way that I'll be at the absolute top of my form on July 2.

The day was brightened by brief visits from some of my friends—and a letter which tells me that very shortly I'll add another dog to my collection. This gift, which is on its way, is a massive New Foundland, and he ought to arrive by the end of the week.

HAS DAYTON VISITORS
Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Harrison, of Dayton, Ohio, and James D. Mooney and Dr. Franklin of Anderson, Ind., were among my visitors today. Mrs. Harrison gave me some really good advice by the immediate care of the ears of "Reno Jack," he's the white bull pup that was sent to me a few days ago. Had his ears clipped. They haven't been mending as speedily as they should, and Mrs. Harrison suggested the very thing that will help to do the trick.

The routine program for today was much like yesterday. A brisk run on the road in the morning, then a later breakfast, a loafing spell, a young nap to take the place of lunch—then the afternoon mauling of the punching bag. My wind seems to be getting better all the time, and I sailed into the big bag for 15 solid minutes and pulled up without a long breath. That was mighty encouraging.

The cut over the eye is getting along so nicely that it looks like a sure-enough boxing workout daily for me, beginning with Saturday. And I'll welcome that. Whether those walloping partners of mine will—well that's another matter. (Copyright, 1921)

SHE IS COMING

PARIS.—Suzanne Lenglen, woman's hard court tennis champion, will go to the United States in September, says the Figaro, which declares that Mlle. Lenglen's father advised M. Wallat, president of the French Lawn Tennis Federation, to this effect. Mademoiselle Lenglen, the newspaper says, will play in a series of tournaments organized by the American committee for devastated regions in France.

JUDGE LANDIS MAKES MOVE TO STOP RICH TEAMS FROM PRACTICALLY PURCHASING PENNANTS

It's a good thing Judge Landis has a long time contract at the head of baseball's machine.

A few more moves like he made in the Groh case and the magnates would be tagging him for the ash can.

The high commissioner of the game took an awful wallop at the Giants, the strongest power in the National League, when he decided that Groh must play the season out with the Reds, if he is to play at all.

The Giants had a locker ready in the club house for the hold-out third baseman of the Reds, who was to be traded for Rapp, Kauff, and Barnes as soon as Groh and Kauff had been put back in good graces.

A large bundle of cash with which the New York club is plentifully supplied was to go along to act as balm for the heart break that Garry Herrmann would suffer in being forced to get rid of his star third baseman.

The move of Judge Landis is a direct shot at commercialism, one of the real evils of the game.

The Giants could deny pennant buying 'till the cows come home. Nevertheless, they would be going virtually that thing if they secured Groh.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, with a home-made team, are making a brave fight for the pennant and have the sympathy of the fans. The move is made by Judge Landis in blocking a deal that would almost give the pennant to New York. The trade was completed will be joyfully received by everyone, but John McGraw and Garry Herrmann. It is a stroke for good baseball. It will go to produce a tighter race and give some of the clubs who lack the cash in the New York coffers a chance.

Pittsburgh wanted Groh and the Chicago Cubs wanted Groh. Both clubs were hopelessly out of the running when it came to bidding against the Giants just as every other club in the circuit will be out of luck in the future when it comes to competing with New York in a financial deal.

The Giants, even without Groh, have as good a chance as the Pirates to win the pennant and get into a cut of the world's series coin. In fact, the Giants with their present make-up look to have the best chance. It was a wise move Judge Landis made day the trade was completed will be joyfully received by everyone, but John McGraw and Garry Herrmann. It is a stroke for good baseball. It will go to produce a tighter race and give some of the clubs who lack the cash in the New York coffers a chance.

"SWEEP YOUR OWN STREETS"
City Fund is Exhausted as Debris Collects
"Brew" your own," recently the motto in certain circles in Lima, may be changed to "sweep your own streets" for property owners who have been having that little chore done for them by the city.
The city's money appropriated by council for street cleaning is all gone, Service Director Elmer McClain announced Friday. According to his estimate, one thousand iron men, sometime-called dollars, are needed to remove the debris from the many miles of paving in Lima.
Where is the money to come from? Director McClain says he doesn't know and offers a solution, that the citizens sweep their own streets until July 1.
Last year council appropriated $4,450 for street cleaning. Of this amount $2,500 was for labor and teams, $600 for material and supplies and $350 for supervision. The money is gone, all but about $75 and the city owes that to someone.
McClain attributes the city's poverty to failure of the proper authorities to re-appraise real estate in the business section. People in the newer sections of the city are paying high taxes, he states, while older property in the heart of city escapes with a low rate.

MUTT AND JEFF—JEFF'S MOTTO WOULD APPLY TO BOOTLEGGERS VERY NICELY—

SHORT SHAVINGS

Two Methodist preachers, one white and the other colored, served rural charges in Mississippi which were cotermious. The negro received a considerably larger salary than his white brother, who asked him if it was not his custom to expect the members who failed to pay. "No, boss," he replied, "we would not like to put the gospel on a money basis. We get them to subscribe, and if they don't pay we turn them out for living."

An Indianapolis resident went up to the sidewalk news stand to buy his regular weekly magazine. "Police stopped us sellin' anything but newspapers. Drug store and hotel news stands made a kick against us," the attendant told him. "You mean no one is selling magazines from the street news stands?" asked the would-be purchaser. "Nobody except the stand on the next corner. He's bootleggin' 'em."

A certain railway official has priced economy, in and out of season, until it has rather got on the nerves of the employees. He likes to talk to the men, putting questions which he thinks will bring out their special abilities and demonstrate their fitness for promotion and recently he cornered a locomotive fireman.

"What would you do," the official asked, "if you saw that your train was heading into an unavoidable collision which promised to be an utterly destructive wreck?"

"Why," the fireman responded promptly, "I'd grab a lump of coal of the month. If bills are not fully paid by this date, 6-15 service will be discontinued on the 15th of this month without further notice."
